New Building Will Be Ready For Next Fall

The new Elementary School under construction by the Canyon Independent School District will not be occupied until next September according to a statement released by the Board of Trustees this week. Original plans were for the building to be put into use at mid-term but construction delays have prevented the completion of the building in time for use during this school term.

The new building, consisting of 23 classrooms, cafeteria, all-purpose room and administrative area is nearing completion but will not be completely finished for at least another six weeks. Sidewalks are now being run and the grounds are being graded and leveled and it is hoped that some landscaping can be done to the site between now and the time school opens next September.

Completion of this new building will relieve crowded conditions in the present elementary facilities of the school system.

Young Couple Victims Asphyxiation Early Sunday Morning at Home

Double funeral services were held yesterday afternoon for Mr. and Mrs. Norman Oler, who were found dead of suffocation Sunday morning at the Happy high school auditorium where each had displayed unusual ability while students. Rev. C. B. Hogue, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Happy, was in charge of the services for the couple.

They had been married only two weeks. Death by monoxide poisoning was returned by Justice of the Peace T. W. Rucker, coroner, and Sheriff D. E. Smith, both of Tulia, who were called to the scene. The young husband was 20, and his bride was 17 years of age.

One gas heater was burning at full blast in the small house, which was tightly closed because of the cold wave.

Their bodies were discovered about 9:15 a. m. by a brother, Thurman Oler, who went to the house occupied by the couple to borrow a gun to go rabbit hunting. Failing to arouse anyone, Thurman returned to his home and summoned his father, J. L. Oler, who broke down the door to gain entrance.

The couple was married Feb. 9. Oler graduated from Happy High School in 1954. Mrs. Oler was a junior in high school and an outstanding guard on the girl's basketball team. She was Worthy Adviser of the Order of Rainbow Girls.

Oler had been employed in the construction of a new school building in Happy. He was captain of last year's Happy High School football squad.

Oler was born May 27, 1935, in Happy. Mrs. Oler was born Jan. 17, 1938, in Happy.

Mrs. Oler's survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sims, Happy; four brothers, Leo Sims, Dallas, Eugene and Weldon Sims, both of Happy, and Morris Sims, Los Angeles; her paternal grandfather, J. P. Sims, Waco, and her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Sterling, Snyder.

Oler is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Oler, Happy; three brothers, J. L. Oler, Jr., Tulia, and Thurman and W. Lee Oler, both of Happy; two sisters, Mrs. Imogene King, Dimmitt, and Mrs. Audrey Drake, 29 Palms, Calif.; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. T. E. Oler, Muskogee, Okla., and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. W. W. Jobe, Happy.

Donations Add To Show Awards

The 8th annual Randall County Junior Livestock Show will be conducted Saturday in Canyon at the City Barn. Among the prizes at the show are various animals that have been donated by local people.

At the 1953 show Jesse W. Hicks, Canyon breeder of registered Hampshire hogs, donated a gilt. This gilt was won by Ross Elliott who returned one of the pigs from this gilt to the 1954 show. At this show Hicks also donated another gilt. Winners of the two gilts were Lon Fanning and Jimmy Kuhlman.

In the show which will be held Saturday Hicks has donated another Hampshire gilt. Lon Fanning and Jimmy Kuhlman are also returning a gilt from the one they were awarded at last year's show. This is a total of three registered Hampshire gilts to be awarded this year as a result of the pigs given by Mr. Hicks.

Another donation at the 1955 show Saturday will be a registered Spotted Poland China gilt. The boy winning this gilt will return one to be given away at the show next year.

Frazier and Buecker Winners in County Spelling Bee Contest

The county bee was held in the Commissioners Courtroom in the county courthouse on Saturday.

Eugene Hill pronounced the words and Mesdames Mavis Hill, Ray Fullerton, and Ruth Hill were judges.

Two Names on School Ticket

A petition was filed yesterday asking for the election of J. Otis Parker and Conway Kuykendall to become members of the Canyon Independent School District's board of trustees.

Wilford Taylor, Jr., and Roy N. Byrd, Jr., present members of the school board, have stated that they will not seek re-election to the Board.

Parker and Kuykendall have been contacted and stated their willingness to serve if elected in April. Mr. Parker lives in Canyon, but operates a large ranch southeast of Canyon. Kuykendall lives at Ralph and is well known through his business relations.

Amarillo Tries To Steal Train

The fuss between Amarillo and Lubbock has reached the stage of absurdity!

When the Santa Fe announced that application would be filed to discontinue service on the line from Amarillo to Lubbock, nothing was heard from Amarillo in protest.

Lubbock's Chamber of Commerce held meetings with the Santa Fe Chicago officers, and agreement was reached that no action would be taken for one more year in spite of the fact that mail was being carried by truck from Amarillo to Lubbock.

The first time Amarillo took any action in the matter was when the train was designated as the Lubbock Chief. Here came Amarillo's Chamber of Commerce, and The Amarillo News announced that the "Amarillo Chief" would start its run.

So here we go on another war of nerves or something.

The new train made its first run Sunday. A large delegation from Amarillo made the first round trip, just to see the new train in action. An Amarillo News reporter got all names, including a small delegation from Lubbock who rode the new train part way back.

We shall see what we shall see.

It will be evaluated from three points of view: science, religion, and business. The local message will present evaluation of present efforts from the point of view of science.

Planning committee members are Mrs. E. R. Reeves, Miss Gladys Armstrong, and Miss Claudia Nealey. George Cristy is in charge of ticket sales. Building representatives for sales are O. H. Schuette, Canyon High School; L. B. Lawless, Canyon Elementary; and A. K. Goodman, WT Elementary.

Seek Cooperation In Observing Signs

A series of minor accidents that could have been serious have given the City Police and highway traffic patrolmen concern for the past several weeks.

These accidents have cost the owners of cars involved an average of $300 per accident. This is minor to a fatality. This loss has been due in every case in failure to observe stop signs or in failure to grant right-of-way.

Every driver should come to a complete stop at all stop signs.

Since the highway is now routed through the city by way of Third Avenue with Fourth and Eighth Avenues carrying heavier than usual loads, a number of new signs have been erected on these avenues. Care should be taken to observe these. They have been erected for your protection.

Failure to grant right-of-way is sometimes made through error in thinking who has the right-of-way. The car approaching from the driver's right always has the right-of-way.

Persons not taking necessary precautions at any stop sign will be issued a ticket if apprehended.

Remember that a life you may save may be your own.

Low Temperature Over the Nation

The temperature sagged to 10 degrees above zero Saturday and 4 degrees above Sunday morning in this area of the Southwest.

The cold wave which hit the Panhandle prevailed over the entire nation but snow fell to the north, while this was just another dry norther so far as the Panhandle was concerned.

The cold wave followed balmy weather last week. The temperature has greatly moderated since this wave, but another cold wave is predicted for this afternoon by the weatherman.

McGlasson Files Resignation Fri.

GENE MCGLASSON

Gene McGlasson filed his resignation Friday with the Commissioners Court as County Attorney, effective March 1st.

McGlasson stated that he was not interested in holding the job of District Attorney which was provided for in a bill introduced in the State Senate and passed by Senator Grady Hazlewood. He will enter the private practice of civil law after he retires.

No applications have been filed for the job, according to County Judge Roy Joe Stevens. Just when the bill will become effective is a matter of surmise. In all other districts appointment of a District-County Attorney is in the hands of the Governor, and he bears all of the responsibility of criminal cases in District Court. The office of District Attorney, so far as Randall County is concerned, will be abolished and the county will be saving a large amount of money because of this consolidation of the two offices.

No local person has yet received a copy of the bill as passed by Senator Hazlewood, and is pending in the House.

Christian Church To Have Revival

The First Christian Church of Canyon is holding a Week of Preaching emphasizing the theme, "Committed Unto God." Services are held each night beginning on Sunday, February 27, and closing on Friday, March 4.

Rev. John S. Mullen, minister of the First Christian Church of Childress, has been secured to lead this Crusade for greater Commitment Unto God, and will preach at the church each night at 7:30. Rev. Mullen is one of the ablest of the Christian preachers of the Panhandle, having served the Christian churches of Childress and Pampa for many years.

The music during this Crusade will be under the direction of Mrs. Stanley Hill, who is the regular choir director of the local church, and she will be assisted by singers from the Canyon church and West Texas State College.

The First Christian Church extends a cordial invitation to the people of Canyon and vicinity to attend any and all of these services.

Rotary Club Observed Fiftieth Anniversary in Dinner Friday Nite

(By Rotary Ann Grace Warwick)

The Canyon Rotary Club presented its Golden Anniversary program Friday night at the college cafeteria. Rotary had its beginning 50 years ago, when Paul Harris, a young Chicago attorney, felt the need of meeting men of other professions and business and began asking men from other vocations to meet with him for discussion of the problems of the day.

The Canyon Rotary was begun Oct. 29, 1928, and has served a worthy purpose ever since, not the least of which is the giving of their women folks one day they don't have to fix a noon meal. Dr. J. A. Hill was the first president and it was regretted by all that Mrs. Hill was not able to attend this meeting.

Frank Morgan, president this year of Rotary, presided. Herschel Coffee, past president of Canyon Rotary and past Governor of this district, introduced the guests present.

Mr. Morgan said Rotary is sometimes referred to by other organizations as the old men's club. How can anyone call Bill Davis, H. R. Fulton, Don Standley, Jack Haley, Truett Hull, Dudley Bayne, Melvin Callahan, Gerald Green, Luther Hagard, Jr., Avert Lair, Bill Lee, E. H. Lindsey, Garland McSpadden, Dudley Moore, Charles Nester, Raymond Raillard, Jack Walker and a lot of others old, and anyway what's wrong with being old? Reminds me of the story of the centenarian who was being interviewed. The reporter asked him if it wasn't terrible being that old and he replied, "H— No!! If I wasn't this old I'd be dead." The average man is dead at 61 and the average woman at 64, so if you have lived past that date YOU ARE LUCKY.

H. R. Fulton and his committee had decorated the cafeteria in yellow Jonquils and it made a lovely setting for Rotary Ann's, who had fixed themselves their most beautiful for the occasion. A beautiful corsage was given to each Rotary Ann.

The food was Good, and nicely served. Bob Clark can COOK. Dinner music by the West Texas State College String Ensemble was enjoyed by all, as was the Rotary Octet, and the flute solo by Gene Merritt.

Highlight of the evening was the address given by Jeff Williams, from Chickasha, Oklahoma. A gifted, inspirational speaker whose humor brought out his points most clearly, and made the occasion one of pleasure to all.

Introduced as visitors of the club by Herschel Coffee were District Governor Jerry and Pearl Dehenport of Odessa; past district governors, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wells of Lubbock; Lloyd and Katherine Wicks of Ralls; Edd and Pearl McLaughlin of Ralls.

Widows of deceased Rotarians of Canyon: Mrs. D. A. Shirley, Mrs. John S. Humphreys, Mrs. Travis Shaw, Mrs. S. H. Condon, Mrs. R. P. Jarrett, Sr., Mrs. W. C. Kunze, all of Canyon.

Presidents of other clubs and their Rotary Anns: Mr. and Mrs. John O'Keefe of Panhandle; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gentry of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Foreman of Dumas; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Davis of Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Minar of Amarillo, representing the Amarillo Club president.

Mr. and Mrs. Burnett Roberts of Levelland, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Farwell of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Newman, Miss Dartha Walker, Dr. Ford Fronabarger, Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Neblett, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, all of Canyon.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Sarah A. Haulman Tuesday

Mrs. Sarah Angeline Haulman died Saturday at the Neblett Hospital where she had been a patient for two days. She had lived in Canyon for about 10 years.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Griggs-Warren Funeral Home under the direction of Rev. Lester L. Hill, pastor of the Methodist Church. The deceased was a member of this church. Interment was in the Happy Cemetery.

Mrs. Haulman is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Charles Sutton of Happy; one son, W. L. Haulman of Amarillo; four grandchildren; 4 great-grandchildren; four sisters; five brothers.

Pall bearers were Tom Rogers, Hollis Shipman, Ross Dunbar, Radford Shipman, Woodrow Wesley, Frank Rogers.

Nance Hereford Is Show Prize

Mrs. George Nance is donating a bred registered Hereford heifer to be given away Saturday to a member of the Randall County Junior Livestock Show in memory of her husband. The tribute to George Nance, one of the world's greatest Hereford breeders, will be a continuous thing and grow with the years.

Winner of the Hereford heifer will return her heifer calf to the 1956 show to be given away then. Each year the winner of this heifer will return its heifer calf to be given at the Randall County Junior Livestock Show. If the winning heifer drops a bull calf the boy who won the heifer is under obligation to purchase a heifer calf of equal breeding to give to the boy selected by the judges as the winner at the livestock show.

Herefords bred by the late George Nance are known to the world over. By this system of rotating the donation of a heifer each year from this herd and keeping them in this locality, there will be a greater number of these cattle in Randall county. The living tribute in memory of the late George Nance, a great Hereford breeder, will continue to grow through the years with the donation of the Hereford at the show each year.

New Frozen Food Plan Adopted by Bellah's Market

Bellah's Super Market announce in this week's issue of The News a new frozen food plan which will be inaugurated on the same basis as used in the large cities of Texas.

Cunningham Appliance is working with Bellah's on the plan. Home freezers and name brand frozen foods will be used in the plan as set out by Bellah's.

Customers are invited to call at the store and get the particulars of the new plan and to find out what it will mean to them in the way of saving on their food budget.

H. D. Clubs Sale Set For Saturday

One nickel will buy a doughnut and a cup of coffee Saturday for visitors at the Eighth Annual Randall County Junior Livestock Show. In addition, there will be a lounge room where show visitors can enjoy visiting with each other. This special treat is being made possible by the Home Demonstration Club women of Randall County and will be held in the courthouse.

Approximately 100 members of the 12 Randall County Home Demonstration Clubs have planned the activity for Saturday. In addition to the sale of coffee and doughnuts there will be a white elephant and bake sale. The Home Demonstration Clubs will be assisted in the sale by the FFA and 4-H Clubs. Proceeds from the sale will go to the 1955 budget of the Randall County Home Demonstration Clubs.

Preparing the lounge room is one feature that the club women felt was of vital importance. They have noticed the need for such a place during other livestock shows here. Mrs. E. L. Hardaway is the chairman of the finance committee for the clubs and is one of the persons helping with the sale.

Minimum Wage Is a Good Thing, But Can Hardly Be Enforced

When the Fair Labor Standards Act (which establishes minimum wages among other things) was enacted in 1938 retailing and various other enterprises were exempted. This exemption has been continued ever since, on the sound grounds that retailing is primarily local in character. On top of that, it would be administratively impractical to police the 1,700,000 retail establishments in this country.

Now, however, it is proposed in some quarters that the retail exemption be eliminated, and that the minimum wage be raised from the present 75-cents-an-hour level. And the potential effects of this on the country should be thoroughly understood both by Congress and the public.

First of all, consumer and producer would be adversely affected. If one category of wages is increased, the other and higher categories inevitably are increased too, in order to maintain reasonable differentials. In addition, stores would be burdened with other costly regulations. The consumer would have to pay the bill, in the form of higher prices for foods and other goods. And when prices are forced up, the market for producers shrinks.

On top of that, this change in the law would undoubtedly reduce employment. Retailers would have no choice but to employ the smallest possible number of unskilled marginal workers—the legal wage would be more than they were worth to the store. So such people would look for jobs in vain, and would lose the opportunity to acquire training that qualifies them for better-paying positions.

In short, the proposal may look good on the surface. But it won't stand logical and objective analysis.

Research Has Proved a Sound Investments for Big Corporations

When the Newsman was a member of the Texas House of Appropriations committee years ago, we were amazed at the feeling of the members opposed to the idea of Texas paying out good money for scientific research. We found that a large part of the House thought this was a waste of the taxpayers' money.

We argued in vain that research was a part of the University of Texas' part in the education of Texas youth. The near sighted members could not see that trained scientists must be induced to come to Texas and to carry on their experiments.

At the same time big corporations in the east were setting up their own experiments. The telephone company has one of Canyon's boys working in the scientific department. The telephone company does not consider this work a waste of public funds.

Following the work of wrecking the appropriations of the University of Texas the lawmakers saw vast numbers of able scientists leave the state. They went to other big universities where they were not handicapped.

Small Group of State Senators Who Opposed Shivers Hold Bag

We note that the small group of Texas Senators fought Governor Shivers during the recent primaries are holding the bag.

In committee appointments, they fared very poorly. In legislation, they are left out in the cold.

Governor Shivers has taken no prominent hand in putting the boys back in their places, but their fellow senators are seeing to this job.

Those who play the political game are on the spot. If they lose in their candidate for higher office, they can expect no favors. So that's that.

Senator Corbin of Lubbock was one of the five senators who opposed the re-election of Governor Shivers last summer. He introduced a resolution in the Senate for the purpose of attacking an assistant to the Governor but in reality his resolution was an attack upon the Governor.

Not a single Senator supported Corbin in this attack. His was the only vote for this resolution. The other four Senators who opposed the Governor failed to rally to his cause.

The whole smear was wiped from the record. It is too bad for Corbin that his district will stand the blame for the actions of this hot-head.

Let Light Shine Upon the Land Scandal Which Cost So Much

The veterans land scandal down at Austin grows more intense as the days pass.

The Governor states that he attended only three meetings of the land board.

The Attorney General disclaims any knowledge of what was going on. However one of his aides says that he was warned about the deal.

It so happens that Fifth Amendment Bascom Cates was the only active member of the board.

The question is: Who got skinned in the land transaction?

The people of Texas have been called upon twice to vote huge sums of money to order to buy land for World War II veterans.

The veterans may be skinned in the deal; but in the long run we are of the opinion that it will be the people of Texas who will be fleeced by this deal. It is our money—that of the people of Texas—which found its way into the pockets of the unscrupulous men who fleeced the people.

Martin Dies Sits on the Lid as Congressman-at-Large in Texas

Martin Dies will continue to be Congressman-at-large in Texas.

The House of Representatives killed a plan to turn over the question of redistricting for congressional purposes to a redistricting board.

Naturally East Texas opposed the plan. This would deprive that section vote in Washington. Dies has the job sewed up. If there is ever to be redistricting passed in Austin we are of the opinion that the whole state of Texas must first defeat Martin Dies. This will be no easy job.

Who can remember the "good old days" when a big crop meant profit for the farmer?

Very often it is the man who gives other jobs who puts the "art" in party.

Each Driver Must Observe Code of the Road in Driving His Car

"If every driver in Texas adhered to the Code of the Road pledge and abided by his pledge to drive courteously, the number of traffic cases which are tried in Texas courtrooms each year, would drop almost to zero," R. B. Roaper of Houston, chief safety engineer, and president of the Texas Safety Association, has stated.

Mr. Roaper praised the courtesy program now being sponsored in Texas by the Texas Safety Association and the Texas Department of Public Safety, in cooperation with the nationwide Code of the Road program sponsored by the National Safety Council and the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee. He said, "Repeated discourtesy in traffic soon breeds actual contempt for traffic rules and regulations which were established for the protection of everyone."

Many times the dividing line between discourtesy and actual law violation is difficult to determine. A driver or pedestrian can cross the line without realizing it, and may be completely unaware that he has developed dangerous traffic habits which will in time lead to penalty or even death," he continued.

Mr. Roaper said that following the Code of the Road courtesy pledge and its seven rules for safe driving will lead to a reduction of the traffic toll, and urged everyone to cooperate. The pledge and rules are:

Courteous driving will save lives. My code of the road is courtesy. I will not be the cause of a traffic accident. I will:

Share the road by driving in the proper lane.

Allow ample clearance when passing.

Yield the right of way to other drivers . . . to pedestrians.

Give proper signals for turns and stops.

Dim my headlights when meeting or following vehicles.

Respect traffic laws, signs, signals and road markings.

Adjust my driving to road, traffic and weather conditions.

Benson Says 26,000,000 Acres Will Blow Unless Abundant Rain

Secretary Benson has announced that unless an abundance of rain falls right now—within this month—that 26,000,000 acres of land in this area will start blowing.

His statement is denied by observers who should know their jobs.

Their opinion is based upon the following facts: There was practically no irrigation back in the dust bowl days. Today there are irrigation wells all over West Texas and this will have a most wholesome effect upon blowing.

Farmers are much more alert to financial needs than they were when dust filled the air back in the 30's. They have money in the banks and can stand more depression.

Mr. Benson does not know either the land or the people who live on the land, according to their opinion. Therefore his assertion is not true.

All of us want to see a good rain right away, but we know that conditions are much more favorable than they were when dust filled the air.

Buying a Man's Suit in USA as Compared to Same in Russia

Buying a new suit of clothing in America is no novel. Nearly every man looks forward to cold weather as the time for a new suit. The suit will cost him less than he can make in a five-day week.

We are told that in Russia that when a man buys a suit of clothes he must pay out 47 days of hard labor for this suit, which is much less quality in service and material than the American made goods.

Free enterprise vs. community enterprise spells the difference.

If anybody can make a move that will insure peace for the world, the people of the world will thank him.

It is very hard to mix hard work and loafing; somehow they do not seem to get along together.

Our idea of a hard job belongs to the farmer who has to decide what he should plant this year.

Why is it that when four women get together, four voices are always heard?

The man who knows it all is as dangerous as the man who knows nothing.

No matter what you look for, the year 1955 will give you some surprises.

While government is designed to serve the people, it cannot support them.

The key to business this year lies in purchasing power and its growth.

Today's fiction is divided into two classes: sexy novels and sexier novels.

The mutual exchange of compliments is the hallmark of the near-great.

There are usually two sides to every strike—and both of them wrong.

There are people in the world who judge everyone by his bankroll.

Usefulness is a rare virtue, not to be expected too often.

The successful farmer is the guy who put the "art" in farm.

Planning your work is good, but doing it is much better.

Dollars and sense lay the foundations for big fortunes.

As a general rule, in life, one gets about what one pays for.

There are always those ready to lead those ready to be led.

We know of no one who has made enemies by going to church.

Almost every week we hear about long-lost family members being reunited after 30 or 40 years. We read these with frank curiosity and a liberal sprinkling of distrust.

From the security of a close-knit family, we try to imagine what its like not to know brothers and sisters, mother and dad.

Usually the news story tells how it happened: A brother ran away when the family moved to another town. One woman's parents were divorced; she went with her mother, lost track of her dad. A mother remarried, had an unknown name. A father with an itching foot took off, the mother died, and the children were adopted into different homes.

But once all this takes place, what urge prompts people to wait, then seek each other again? If a trail can be picked up after many years, wouldn't it have been much easier to follow long before? A man goes back to an old neighborhood and begins to inquire. A mother visits a city where she has heard her son lives, finds his name in the telephone book and calls. Such things apparently could have been done years sooner than they are.

Quite often it's the wrongdoer who gets lost. Then, when his money or his years or his luck begins to run out, he contacts the more stable family member. Real homesickness, a long-dormant affection coming alive, may prompt some of these last-minute reunions, it's true. Once in awhile.

It's highway robbery!

For sheer fun out on the road, Chevrolet's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!

Up to this year, maybe there were reasons for wanting one of the higher-priced cars. If you demanded something really special in the way of driving fun, you simply had to pay a premium to get it.

Not any more! The Motoramic Chevrolet has changed all that. Who could wish for more excitement than the new 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" delivers? (For those who do, 180-h.p. is optional at extra cost in all V8 models.) Chevrolet also offers the two highest powered sixes in its field.

Come in and see how the Motoramic Chevrolet is stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!

AUSTIN: Investigation of veterans' land sales is spreading.

Twenty new witnesses were called in for testimony by the House investigating committee the past week. All were former employees of the General Land Office.

More will testify this week — the third week of investigation by the House committee.

Two additional months of investigation will be undertaken by the Senate committee by order of the upper house. Investigation by the Senate committee has been going on since late in December.

A parade of witnesses will continue for several days.

Latest suit brought by the attorney general boosts the total recovery sought by the state to $1,113,800. Named among the defendants were J. Paul Little and H. R. Stallings of Crystal City.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd said the land was purportedly owned by A. B. Abbott, "a fictitious person — an assumed name used by the defendant J. Paul Little."

Shepperd has charged that Veterans Land Board files were rifled and records removed, after the investigation started before Christmas.

Regulating Labor Unions

A determined effort is being made to draft more stringent labor laws. It stems from the Port Arthur strikes.

Labor unions on the other hand are actively expressing their opposition.

A Senate committee delayed action on Sen. George Parkhouse's bill. It prohibits picketing by non-employees and strikes by other than the majority group of employees.

In the House, the labor committee heard a bill written by the State Federation of Labor. According to Rep. Maury Maverick, Jr., co-sponsor, it would have prevented the multiple-strike situation in Port Arthur.

Under the Maverick-Berlin bill, the state labor commissioner would be required to call an election to determine whether the union represented a majority of the employees. A strike or picketing until that was determined would be prohibited. Also, if the union lost the election, it would be prohibited from picketing.

This bill also creates a full-time Industrial Commission to review disputes and invoke public opinion. But it would have no enforcement powers to settle labor fuses.

Nobody opposed the bill. It was sent to a sub-committee for a week's study.

Roy Harrington, secretary of the Texas Council of the CIO, said his group reluctantly accepted the bill. "We are about convinced," he said, "we are going to be hit over the head with a stick at this session. We're trying to pick out the smallest stick, the one that will hurt the least."

Some industrial leaders call the union's bill a little Wagner Act. They say it forces arbitration by a state commission, collective bargaining, and production of books and records.

Crime and Comics

Rep. Joe R. Pool has introduced a bill to outlaw crime, horror and sex comic books.

Another to prohibit all sorts of lewd and scandalous publications has been presented by Rep. Grainer McIlhenny.

A House committee heard 16 witnesses, 14 in favor of the two bills. Authors passed out samples of the publications. Committee members got so busy examining the exhibits they missed much of the four hour testimony.

Insurance Bills

A bill by the Association of Texas Fire and Casualty Companies won the approval of a Senate committee. It is designed to correct abuses in the casualty field.

Sen. C. C. Martin is sponsor. The bill would raise minimum capital and surplus requirements for companies engaged in fire, casualty and marine insurance to $500,000, and raise the minimum for casualty companies to $150,000 capital and $150,000 surplus.

Also approved by the committee was Sen. Searcy Bracewell's "tough" bill to raise the minimum capital and surplus for legal reserve life companies to $375,000.

Lower Bus Taxes

The Legislature's tax program took a short backward roll down hill... as the House voted to cut $250,000 a year from present registration fees of motor busses.

Rep. Douglas E. Bergman's amendment to increase auto license fees by one-third was modified to exempt commercial vehicles, then reported favorably to the House.

After six weeks of legislating, the lawmakers have shown little inclination to increase taxes.

Cigarette Smuggling

Cigarette smuggling cost Texas $1,200,000 in badly needed revenue last year. So says J. G. Pope of the cigarette and amusements tax division of the state comptrollers office.

An all-out enforcement campaign has been ordered to stop the flow of bootleg cigarettes. They are coming in from Missouri and Colorado where there is no state tax.

New Appointees

Gov. Allan Shivers has named three new members to six year terms on the University of Texas Board of Regents.

Designated were Mrs. Charles K. Devall, wife of the publisher of the Kilgore News Herald; Dr. J. Lee Johnson, III, Ft. Worth lumberman; and Dr. Merton Minter, San Antonio physician.

Witnesses Placed Under Oath to Get Truth, Relevancy

The tests of truth and relevancy which courts apply are stricter than those which we use in daily life. As a rule we don't put a man under oath. We don't cross examine him if his story fails to hang together. We don't jail or fine him if he lies to us. But we do these things in court.

Why is that? Because we think each thing that takes place in a courtroom is important. Your property, your personal or civil rights—even your family's welfare or your life or liberty—may rest upon the truth of testimony in court.

Eager as courts are for facts, their tests fall short of those of science. When a scientist doubts the outcome of an experiment, he need not rely upon somebody else's word. He just repeats the experiment in question.

But not so in court. The acts told of in courts cannot be lived over again, for the court to see first hand. For example, you cannot bring back and ask a dead man whether he signed a will or whether the accused killed a man. We cannot re-do a murder; we can only get the witnesses to tell what they know first hand.

To protect each party, there are at least two safeguards: (1) we put the witness under oath on pain of penalties for lying; and (2) we cross-examine the witness.

Lawyers may seem always to be objecting to testimony. They have a duty to their clients and the court, to see that the judge and jury hear only what is true and relevant under the law. If a lawyer protests, the judge may rule out some kinds of facts and tell the jury to ignore them. Sometimes too, some facts seriously break the rules of evidence. Then the judge declares a "mistrial" and orders a new trial.

He does this when the testimony is so unfair as to put the rights of the accused in danger. He does this also to protect the public.

100,000 Troops Massed Outside Isle of Formosa

By STANLEY JAMES
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON: Chiang Kai-Shek has approximately 3,560,000 troops of all kinds, scattered throughout his islands and in Formosa, according to top-level government officials here.

One of these high officials, who asked not to be quoted, said that about 100,000 of these troops are outside of Formosa—in the various islands, like the Tachens group. The United States' major interest in these islands lies in the large amount of equipment in the hands of Nationalist troops there.

Most of this equipment was furnished Kai-Shek by the U. S. in recent years and Washington would be highly disappointed if it fell into Chinese Communist hands. This was the way it looked all sent large quantities of equipment during the China fighting. We sent large quantities of equipment to the Nationalists and then it somehow found its way into Red hands.

Some Nationalist units went over to the other side and carried their U. S. equipment with them. Others abandoned it in battle. Some war lords sold it to the Reds to make a huge profit. It was a sad tale from beginning to end. And that was one of the contributing factors to Chiang's defeat.

Kai-Shek's troops now have a better fighting spirit, it is said, but if they are cut off in islands, by the Reds, they will lose their recently-acquired U. S. equipment, and the process will be starting all over again.

The Eisenhower Administration wants to make sure that equipment to arm 100,000 men does not fall into Communist hands. That is why congressional approval of the plan to evacuate the Tachens was so important. The real point involved is the U. S. equipment in the hands of Nationalist defenders on these islands.

The Standard Equipment Tire on the New 1955 Cars...

New Safety-Tensioned, Gum-Dipped* Cord Body Makes Firestone Tires Safer... Stronger... Run Much Longer!

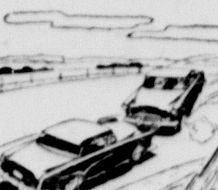

The Firestone Gum-Dipping process, patented in 1920, has long been famous for extra protection against blowouts. Now, with valuable speedway experience and millions of miles of testing on the highway, Firestone combines Gum-Dipping with Safety-Tensioning to take the stretch out of tire cords, a major cause of tire failure in high speed driving. The result is greater blowout protection and longer tire life.

*T.M. Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

All These Extra Features at No Extra Cost

BLOWOUT PROTECTION

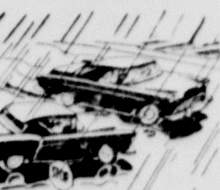

No tube to pinch or explode! The Safety-Liner, which holds the air, also reinforces the tire... instead of a dangerous blowout you get a slow leak.

PUNCTURE PROTECTION

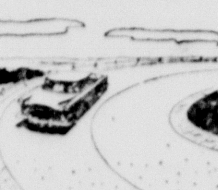

If a nail should penetrate this tire, the Safety-Liner grips it and slows air loss... No sudden flat tires... no need to change flats on the road.

SKID PROTECTION

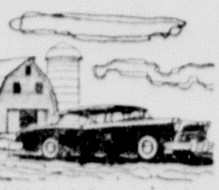

Newly designed silent tread has more angles... more skid-protecting edges than ever before... has 70% more skid-resistance than ordinary tires.

QUIETER RUNNING

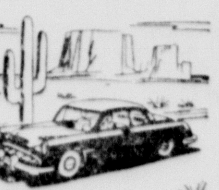

No hum or whine because tread elements overlap to prevent rhythmic vibration. Silent Safety-Grip Tread won't squeal even on sharpest turns.

GREATER COMFORT

New resilient tread compounds and flexible tread design absorb road shock. Elimination of the inner tube also provides a softer, more comfortable ride.

LONGER MILEAGE

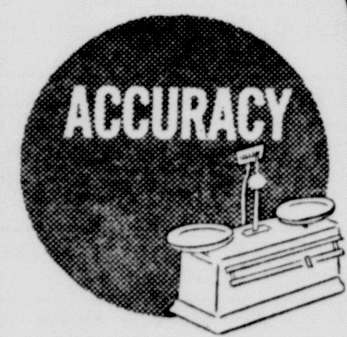

The tread is compounded of extra-tough wear-resistant rubber. Its Safety-Tensioned, Gum-Dipped* Cord Body prevents dangerous tread cracking.

Memory Gardens Answer to Burial Care for Area

No visit to Amarillo and the Panhandle area would be complete without visiting Memory Gardens, located on the Amarillo-Canyon highway where, under the able management of Robert (Bob) Stiles, superintendent, it is rapidly on the way to becoming one of the more beautiful burial parks in the area.

Plans and operations are under way for panoramas of serene loveliness to greet the eyes of visitors to Memory Gardens, as well as vistas of sun-drenched green lawns, flowers and shrubbery which will make Memory Gardens a favorite shrine for lovers of outdoor beauty. And thanks to a perpetual endowment fund these gardens will always remain cared for in the future.

Memory Gardens, with business offices at 1203-A West Sixth in Amarillo, fills a long-felt want in this part of the state and constitutes one of the essential features of the complete organization of any modern community. Every effort is made to soften the sorrow of the bereaved, and understanding and sympathy abound. Precautions, too, are taken to make it possible to make burials in harmony with their religious beliefs and family customs. No one need ever hesitate to avail themselves of a Memory Gardens service because of price, as costs are moderate and terms convenient.

Mr. Stiles is always glad to consult and advise with far-seeing residents of the area who wish to make arrangements for the future and final care of their loved ones.

Mr. Stiles is a man of wide experience with an intensely humanitarian background and understanding which materially aids him in the management of Memory Gardens and in service to the community.

Latest Rumors From Political Front of Nation

President Eisenhower is intrigued by the idea of a personal get-together with his old friend Marshal Georgi Zhukov. However, the suggestion of an Eisenhower-Zhukov meeting, at which they would not be present, worries the British.

Sir Winston Churchill, Britain's Prime Minister, who has been looking for a way to confer with Russians "at the summit," suddenly is confronted with the practical problem of deciding what is the "summit." The British were much impressed by Georgi Malenkov as the No. 1 man, only to find that the man they bet on has his duties confined to supervising power stations.

Sir Winston, at 80, again is signaling delay in a general election that might precede his retirement. Sir Winston has told recent callers that, tension off Formosa and inside Russia prompts him to keep his experience available to the nation in critical times.

India's Pandit Nehru, who has been betting on Russia in all of Russia's differences with U. S., is beginning to wonder whether he has put his money on the right horse. Mr. Nehru is in less of a hurry to pay a state visit to Moscow than he was a few days ago.

Charles Bohlen, U. S. Ambassador to Russia, did not go along with the British in sizing up Malenkov as Communism's strong man. His reports had prepared the State Department for the latest overturn in the Kremlin.

It is beginning to dawn upon some people, besides hard-boiled American military men of the period, that it was American food, American oil and American transport that gave the Russians the means with which they finally drive back the Germans in World War II. The relatively small nation of Germany had almost defeated the Russians with one arm while fighting with the other arm in the West.

Industrialists of India, after inspecting Russian steel plants, advised against buying such a plant for India. Mr. Nehru went ahead, nevertheless, for political reasons.

Gen. Matthew Ridgway, Army Chief of Staff, is being asked to provide U. S. troops to support the Eighteenth Air Wing of F-86 jets on the island of Formosa. This is expected to be just the first request for Army troops to be stationed in Formosa to guard Air Force and Navy installations.

Troop commitments abroad are rising at a time when the U. S. Army is being cut down rather sharply in size. It is this kind of situation that has caused General Ridgway to register a protest.

The President is irritated by the fight getting under way in Congress over the Atomic Energy Commission. The troubles within that Commission, forced into the open by Democrats looking for a political issue, tend to grow with public attention.

Mr. Eisenhower, who would like to add more aides to his White House staff, is running into budget trouble. Unless Congress votes him more money, the President has about all of the staff that he can hire.

The name of Lyndon Johnson, Texas Senator, and Majority Leader of the Senate, is being pushed quietly by his friends as a man around whom Democrats can rally in 1956. Opponents of Adlai Stevenson are more and more interested in Senator Johnson.

Paul Patterson, Governor of Oregon, is being groomed as the man to take on Senator Wayne Morse when the senior Oregon Senator stands for re-election in 1956. Governor Patterson is regarded as a comer among West Coast Republicans.

President Eisenhower has told friends that he made a political mistake by not telling the public more about the Dixon-Yates power contracts in early stages of negotiations for private power development in the TVA area. By trying to keep negotiations secret until completed, the White House enabled the Democrats to build an issue.

George Humphrey, Secretary of the Treasury, is not happy about the growing number of plans for new subsidies that are being proposed by Republican members of Congress with strong political support. Instead of fewer subsidies, as promised in 1952, a Republican Administration may end up with more than the country had under the Democrats.

Sam Rayburn, House Speaker and leader of the Democrats in Congress, is softening a little toward the White House. The President's friendly attitude toward him makes it hard to carry a grudge, and, as the months go by, campaign bitterness tends to fade.

Some White House aides are remarking quietly, and in a pleased sort of way, that the Democrats are proving less bothersome with investigations now that they are in control of Congress than the Republicans themselves were when they had control during the last two years.

Texas Viewpoint

In Washington

By PRICE DANIEL
U. S. Senator

If the Texas viewpoint is not expressed sufficiently in Washington in 1955, it will be the fault of our own citizens and native sons. They hold the highest places in government today.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower, a native of Denison, Texas, heads the executive branch of the government.

In the Congress, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham holds top place in the House of Representatives, and Lyndon Johnson of Johnson City is majority leader of the Senate.

We have not been able to find another period in American history when one State furnished all three of these top officials.

Real Texas Co-operation
Although the President and the two Congressional leaders are of opposite political parties, they have been good friends for many years. There will be occasional political differences from time to time, but on the big issues you can look for real bipartisan co-operation between these Texans for the best interests of our country.

Popular in Both Parties
An unusual thing about each of these three Texans is his popularity in the opposing political camp. Despite the normal political sniping, it is doubtful if any Republican President has enjoyed higher personal popularity among members of the Democratic Party. On the other hand, Speaker Sam Rayburn, a loyal two-fisted Democrat, has scores of personal friends and admirers on the Republican side of the aisle. You should have heard the great ovation when President Eisenhower interrupted his State of the Union speech to congratulate Speaker Rayburn on his 73rd birthday. Senator Johnson has the same type of understanding and respect from Republicans in the Senate. Believing in unity for the best interests of the nation, he is slow to raise partisan issues.

Of course, there are many other Texans with important jobs in Washington. One or more of them will be mentioned in this column each week, because Texas' contribution to the national scene may be measured largely by these individuals and their work.

Senator Becomes Columnist
This week your junior Senator joins the ranks of other members of the Senate who write columns for their weekly newspapers. After two years here in Washington, it has been decided that this is the best means of reporting matters of interest to a large segment of the people. All one has to do to be sold on the importance of his weekly newspaper is to hear its virtues extolled by nearly 20 Senators who write for these hometown papers.

One Senator recently expressed it this way: "My column to week-

March 1st Is Deadline For Trip To Canada Reservations in Summer

A vacation without the worry of planning routes, making reservations or the uncertainties of transportation is promised when the third summer tour, sponsored by the West Texas State geography department, is made July 18-Aug. 12. The chartered bus tour this summer will be to the West Coast and Canada.

Dr. Murry B. Measamer, geography department head who initiated the tours two years ago, describes this summer's trip as "primarily for fun, since there is no college credit offered this summer." He said that the tour would be educational, but the recreational features will be emphasized.

The two previous tours, first to the West Coast and last summer to the East Coast, were designed for college credit. This year, however, persons making the trip will not have to register or pay tuition, nor will they have to spend time on the campus.

Cost of the vacation tour will be $250, including transportation and lodging, conducted tour of a number of places of interest, and a round-trip boat cruise from Seattle to Victoria, British Columbia. Food and incidentals are not included.

A $50 deposit for reservation on the bus is to be sent to Dr. Measamer about March 1, and reservations will be made on "a first-come-first-served" basis, he said. Only one bus will be used this summer. Dr. Measamer said, so only about 35 persons will make the tour.

Among points of interest to be visited on the 26-day tour are Hollywood, Yosemite National Park, San Francisco, the Redwood Highway, Crater Lake, Willamette Valley, Victoria, B. C., Cascade Mountains, Grand Coulee Dam and Irrigation basin, Lake Louise and the Columbia Ice fields in Alberta, Canada, Yellowstone National Park, and the Grand Tetons.

Hog Prices To Be Lower in '55

COLLEGE STATION: Hog raising will not be so profitable in 1955 as last year.

Larger marketing caused by increased hog numbers will lower prices this spring and summer, says John G. McHaney, extension farm economist. Later in the year, slaughter should slow and prices rise again, leveling off just below those of last fall.

After declining two years, hog production was expanded 13 per cent last year. The economist says an additional five per cent increase in the '55 spring pig crop is in prospect.

Generally, prices for hogs will be about "average" in relation to the price of corn. Producers should realize average profits where feed is plentiful and not too highly priced, McHaney explains.

William O. Douglas, Supreme Court Justice: "The ultimate political settlement of the China problem involves recognition of two Chinas and the grant of seats in the United Nations to both of them."

Dwight Culver, Purdue University professor: "The Christian churches, Roman Catholic and Protestant, are the most segregated institutions in America."

Reiff, president of Hardin-Simmons University; Floyd Golden, president of Eastern New Mexico University; Dr. J. C. Cross, Texas Tech; Dr. A. M. Meyer, president of Amarillo College; Dr. Carlton Berenda, professor of philosophy, University of Oklahoma; and John Newport, Southwestern Theological Seminary, Ft. Worth.

On going into the cowshed, the farmer was surprised to find his new hand, a town girl, giving one of the cows a drink from her milking pail.

Brilliant New Styling - Blazing New Power at everybody's price*

The 1955 Pontiac is evidence that price is no longer a factor in making the step to fine-car luxury and performance.

Every new Pontiac you see emphasizes the fact that here is the most distinctively styled car of all. But Pontiac's brilliant styling is only part of all that's new and modern in this great General Motors masterpiece. The clinching evidence comes to light in your first few minutes behind the wheel.

At a touch of your toe, Pontiac's mighty Strato-Streak V-8 responds instantly, whether you're in city traffic or cruising the open road. With Pontiac's new, bigger brakes and recirculating ball steering, handling is almost effortless. New wide-stance rear springs; roomy, luxurious Body by Fisher and shock-proof chassis complete the fine-car picture.

Normally, all this would add up to high price—but Pontiac has changed the pattern with prices that start so close to the lowest that if you can afford any new car you can afford the easy and satisfying step to Pontiac pride and distinction. Why not come in at your first opportunity and get the facts and figures? Once you do, you'll wish you'd made the move sooner.

THE TRIUMPH OF AN IDEAL

THE STORY OF ROTARY

Part I

The International Organization

An Echo from Pioneer Days. At a meeting of Panhandle pioneers some years ago in Canyon, the following frontier story was told by a daughter of one of the actors in the scene described.

As is commonly known in these parts, a Quaker colony, which took the name Estacado, was among the first white settlements on the High Plains of Texas. According to both history and tradition, Quakerism here was a rather perfect offspring of its Pennsylvania ancestry.

Among the faithful and devout religionists was one Dr. Thomas. Frontier conditions, presumably, are always rather trying, and Estacado followed the pattern. In the course of time Dr. Thomas and one of his Quaker brethren had what is sometimes called a "falling out." So bitter became the feeling, as time went on, that the two old colonists refused to speak to each other.

On a certain hot summer day, while party of the second part was driving an ox-drawn wagon across the roadless prairies, one of his steers decided it was too hot to work. So down he lay for a Southwestern siesta. With Quaker patience and gentility the resourceful driver worked in the boiling sun with necessitous determination. But with equal determination, if not obstinacy, the ox kept his bed.

Finally, exhausted in both physical strength and patience, the old Quaker decided he needed help. Surveying the far-flung horizon the only visible prospect was the home of Dr. Thomas, a quarter mile away. Would he dare approach a man with whom he was not on speaking terms? But what else was there to do? Hesitantly, yet resolutely substituting necessity for unfriendliness he strode up to the Doctor's house, called his erstwhile friend, and said: "Sir, wilt thou come to the aid of a Quaker in trouble?"

Without saying a word the devout physician donned his Quaker hat and walked straightway to the wagon. With customary dignity he exhorted the ox to resume labor. The old steer didn't seem to understand. A Quaker pull at the animal's horns was equally fruitless. A kick in the belly didn't help. And then an attempt to roll the wagon over the ox failed. The task looked as hopeless to the Doctor as to his on-looking but silent brother in the faith. Finally, all other means exhausted, he approached the recumbent steer from the rear and no doubt with restrained emotion addressed him thus: "Oh, thou lazy, stubborn beast! I will not beat thee; I will not curse thee; I will not even loose my temper against thee, but I WILL twist thy damned tail."

A Problem in Human Relationships. For our purpose here the point of this story is in the problem of human relationships. Here were two good men who by all the rules of common sense ought to have enjoyed the warmest perpetual friendship. They were members of the same race, spoke the same language, owed allegiance to the same government, were imbued with the same pioneering spirit, were fellow citizens on a far-flung frontier, and were communicants in the same religious faith. Yet they were not on speaking terms. Each of them must have lacked something vital to his own happiness and to the welfare of the community in which he lived.

As we survey the present status of personal, community, national, and international relationships, we can but wonder if this Quaker story from a Texas frontier does not just about typify the condition of the world we live in today. Granted that the lack of adequate food, clothing, shelter, and the like among the under-developed peoples of the world is a source of much international tension, is it not true that many of such problems could be resolved if only the mental and spiritual poverty of mankind could be alleviated?

With those who argue that it is the other way round we take no issue, except to assert that poverty of mind and spirit is more difficult to deal with than is poverty in material things. At any rate, the absence of mental, moral, and spiritual literacy is a major cause of world tensions.

"Peaceful Coexistence." We hear much these days in international parlance about "peaceful coexistence," but generally the term is used with reference to nations which, like the estranged Quaker brethren, are hardly on speaking terms. Too often at all levels of human association our "peaceful coexistence" is the product of crisis and does not imply an "entente cordiale." It is not a spiritual achievement. It comes about under the cruel pressure of relentless circumstance. In such cases necessity becomes the mother of cooperative survival, and "coexistence" is not altogether "peaceful."

A Redeemed Individualism Needed. Fortunately, many people living in the free nations of the world and, we hope, many also in the slave states, have discovered that the key to enduring "peaceful coexistence," at any and all levels of human relationship, is to be found in a redeemed or sublimated individualism rather than in fortuitous necessity. The two Quakers would have had no insoluble misunderstanding but for their lack of knowledge of the spiritual implications of their own religious faith. An individualism that has had no experience with the most exalted values of life is not prepared to contribute much to its own or another's peaceful living.

Indeed, no truly free society can long endure a majority of whose citizens are not endowed with intelligence, enlightenment, and some understanding of ultimate values. The wholesome development of their individual members is, therefore, a basic concern of all freedom-loving societies.

Implementing an Ideal. Out of this concept of the road that leads away from spiritual poverty and an habitual state of war to a condition of personal happiness and enduring world peace have come many organizations and institutions that recognize the dignity and sacredness of human personality and the essential place of the individual in the advancement of civilization. Unique and increasingly influential among them is Rotary International — an organization which is this year celebrating its 50th anniversary.

Golden Anniversary. This celebration will be observed in 89 countries and areas of the globe, by some 8,400 clubs representing nearly 400,000 members. Rotary International believes that in these 50 years, its contribution to community, national, and international understanding, good-will, and fundamental progress THROUGH THE IMPROVEMENT OF ITS INDIVIDUAL MEMBERS warrants a mammoth world-wide celebration, and that Rotary's message deserves to be known by all who enjoy the romance of triumphant idealism and who pray for the establishment of peace on earth.

A Man With an Idea. Just after the turn of the century, Paul Harris, a young Chicago attorney, found himself lonely in the great, bustling sea of humanity about him — an experience shared, no doubt, by a majority of people who move from small communities to vast metropolitan centers.

Harris was not willing to sit out a life of near friendless isolation, not even in the third largest city (at that time) on the North American Continent. Meditating upon his problem, he decided one day to invite three of his acquaintances from as many vocations to a short fellowship meeting. There is no evidence that he entertained even the faintest idea, as he extended those three invitations, that he was that day giving organic form to an idea that was destined to encompass the globe.

The four men — a lawyer, a tailor, a mining engineer, and a coal dealer — came together on February 23, 1905; and this was the genesis of the world's first Rotary Club, and therefore of Rotary International. "Great oaks from little acorns grow;" and during the half century since the Rotary acorn germinated we have witnessed again the wisdom in the words of the Master: "Man does not live by bread alone."

"Service Above Self." These four men evidently found satisfaction in sharing their respective experiences and felt an upward pull toward "disinterested friendships." Soon others were invited to similar meetings, and others, and yet others, each from a different vocation or profession. A club was formed, with ideals and objects defined. No doubt the loneliness that Paul Harris had felt was felt by others, too, and the new organization was giving them escape. It was rendering them an appreciated SERVICE and so SERVICE became a slogan and "Service Above Self" the Club motto.

How Rotary Got Its Name. At first, meetings were rotated among the offices and places of business of the members. This practice gave origin to the name "Rotary." The word "International" was added a few years later when the organization had spread to other countries.

The Rotary Idea Catches On. One of the most phenomenal things about the Rotary idea was the rapidity with which it took root and spread to other localities. Far away San Francisco established the second club in 1908, to be followed by Winnipeg, Canada. In less than a decade, clubs were organized on three or four different continents, and Rotary had become an international body. In 1953-54, new clubs were born at the rate of one a day and in 47 different countries. Today Rotary is an acknowledged power in the field of international comity.

Thus, Rotary's ideal of "Service Above Self" is encompassing the earth and touching the lives of people of every race, every religion, every language, every political ideology, and every social and economic level. Rotary transcends the most difficult human barriers and reduces humanity to a common denominator.

Rotary's World-Wide Appeal. It may be asked, "How do you explain this phenomenal growth of a mere club for men? There are no governments, no fraternal orders, no languages that make such appeal to the cultural leadership of the world. What makes Rotary different?"

Briefly, as stated in one of Rotary's recent publications, "By emphasizing the things on which all men agree, Rotary strives to overcome the barriers of time and distance, replacing suspicion and misunderstanding with friendship, mutual respect and confidence."

Because it seeks no material gain for itself or its members and endeavors to liberate the in-born aspirations of the human heart THROUGH THE IDEAL OF SERVICE, and thus promote the cause of fellowship and world peace, it appeals to the cultural instincts of men everywhere.

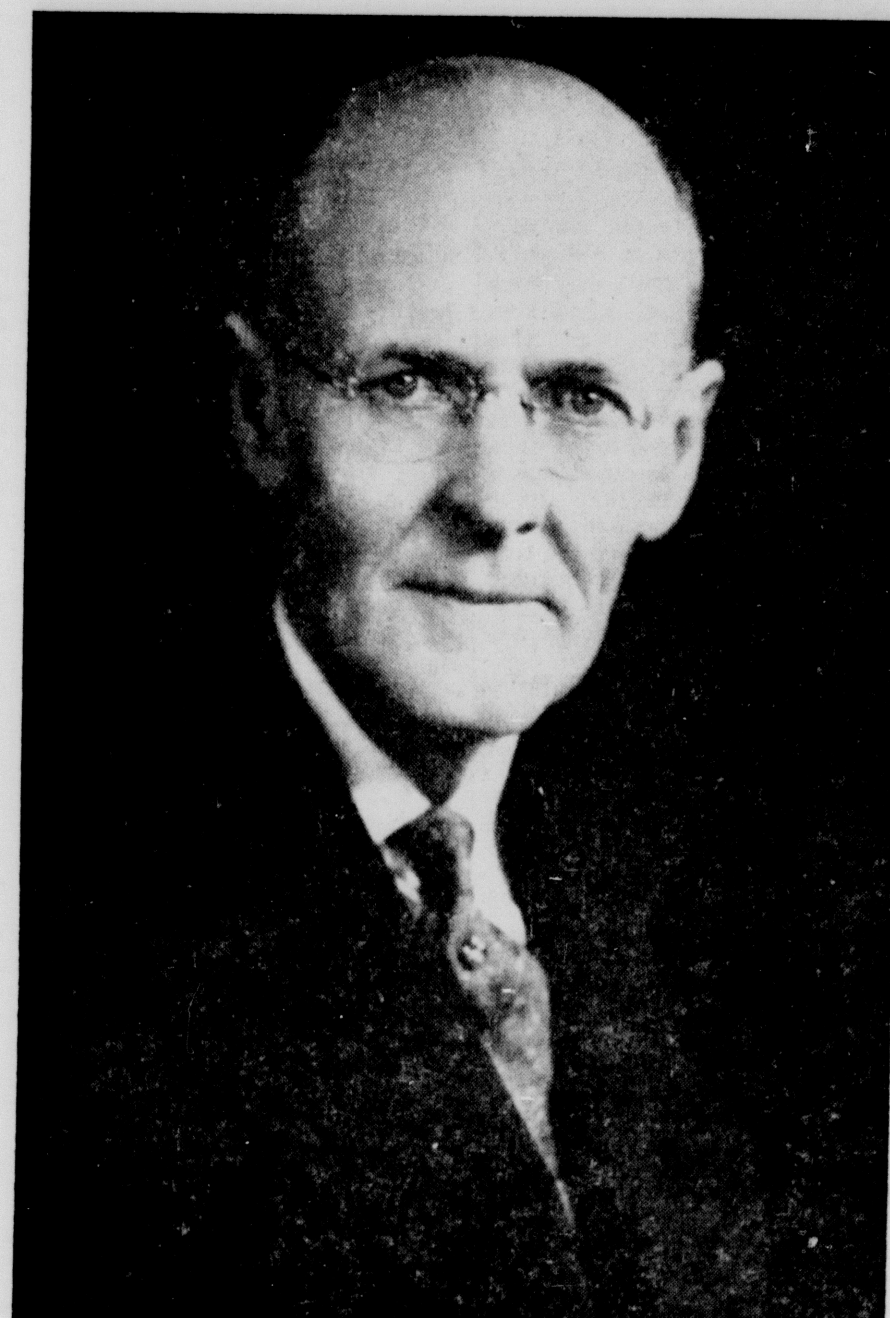

By and large, the people of the world love peace and abhor war. By and large, men are coming to respect human personality, wherever found. By and large, the concept of the dignity of man is gaining ground in many parts of the world. "A Man's a Man for a' that."

It is this growing hospitality to respect for others, to the doctrine of the equality of man, to tolerance and faith and brotherly love that enables Rotary to make its world-wide appeal. Rotary is essentially a moral and spiritual force and, as such, implements the highest aspirations of the souls of men.

In its IDEAL OF SERVICE it offers men an opportunity to exercise and develop their humanitarian instincts and thus experience personal growth. As all Rotarians know, this quality of Rotary is one of its most beneficent and satisfying features, because all good men enjoy serving others. This growth of the individual soon makes the community and society as a whole its beneficiaries. So men the world around see the good works of Rotary, accept its messages, and participate in its program.

The Vocational Classification Principle. It was not accidental that the four men in Paul Harris' first meeting came from four different vocations and professions. Evidently the founder of Rotary believed that fellowship with men from a variety of avenues of employment would be more informative, richer, and more satisfying than with men of the same vocational or professional interests. Already the lawyers, doctors, engineers, labor unionists and others had their own exclusive organizations. So the vocational classification principle immediately became a fixed practice of the new organization. Since Rotary is sometimes criticized for thus limiting its membership, perhaps a brief discussion of it here will be helpful.

Keeping in mind Rotary's purpose to develop through the application of its motto, "Service Above Self," the natural or human resources of each individual member, it should be clear enough that unbroken contact with leading business and professional men from a variety of the community's vocations and professions will broaden one's knowledge, increase his friendships, enlarge and enrich his respect for others, develop tolerance, and give one a deeper interest in the common welfare. If one takes his Rotary seriously, he can hardly escape being a better man, a more useful citizen.

Furthermore, because of his classification in Rotary, each member occupies a dual relationship:

1. He represents his vocation to Rotary, and through him, his fellow Rotarians get a better understanding of the nature, the problems, and the service of all men who are engaged in his particular field of employment. This understanding comes not only through association at weekly meetings, but also through classification talks which are a regular feature of Rotary programs.

2. To quote again from an official Rotary bulletin, "Rotary seeks to encourage and foster high ethical standards in business and the professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society. It seeks to stimulate each and every Rotarian into an active campaign that will make Rotary's ideal of service a living force in the commercial, industrial, and professional life of his community, as a true basis of success and happiness in business and in life."

The Vocational Classification Practice. In keeping with this classification principle, and to implement its vocational objective, each club maintains a Vocational Service Committee. This committee is expected to inspire and direct an effective vocational service program that functions 365 days of the year. It is not too much to assert that wherever this program is faithfully administered, it is lifting the ethical standards of the business life of the community, improving competitor relationships, and stimulating personal and community goodwill.

The Four-Way Test. A project known as The Four-Way Test was originated some years ago by a business man who undertook to resurrect (and succeeded) a near bankrupt corporation. When Herbert J. Taylor, now President of Rotary International, took over the very difficult task of saving a disintegrating business, he evidently came with a keen sense of ethical values, for he worked out and applied a highly moral formula. In the passing years, it has become an integral part of the Rotary program and is featured in the observance of Rotary's Golden Anniversary. It is expected that the public will see it attractively displayed in show-windows and offices of Rotarians. Here it is:

Is it the TRUTH?

Is it FAIR to all concerned?

Will it build GOOD WILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?

Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

Vocational Service committees are implementing the project in various ways. Among these is the use of the local press, radio, television. Another is an interpretative program before the club itself. And still another is one or more forum discussions before high school and college assemblies. Sometimes students are invited to participate in these discussions, or put on a forum of their own, using The Four-Way Test as a guide.

In these various ways Rotary, through its Vocational Service Committee, is fertilizing and cultivating the grass-roots of our business and economic system, re-enforcing its foundation with the Macadam of good character.

The Community Service Committee. One phase of Rotary's service objective is community service. Hence, one of its important agencies is the Community Service Committee. This committee, composed largely of men who are known for their community interest, maintains close contact with leaders in all the different areas of community welfare — such as, recreation, education, youth problems and agencies, public health, and whatever else seems particularly important to the community.

The members of this committee study community needs and, both as individuals and as a group, report their findings to the club. Often they bring community projects before the club. Not infrequently they report and discuss projects and problems of other local agencies, such as the city commission, the public school board, women's clubs, the P-TA, the public library, and other such organizations.

Thus, through the Community Service Committee every Rotarian has a chance to be and is expected to be an active and enlightened citizen of his community. In other words, the development of good citizenship on the part of its members is a major objective of Rotary and a major responsibility of its Community Service Committee.

Rotary Looks at the World. Under the Rotary concept, however, good citizenship does not limit itself to the community level. Modern science and invention have made the world one big laboratory wherein all men, willy nilly, work elbow to elbow. In such a world every one is his neighbor's keeper. "No man is an island unto himself." As the English philosopher said centuries ago, "we are all part of the main." The constantly increasing complexity of modern civilization is com-

Around the Town...

(By Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick)

Four important events are celebrated in this month of February.

Valentine's day. This day grew out of the old notion, alluded to by Chaucer and Shakespeare, that on this day birds first choose their mates and has grown into a day when gifts and expressions of love are exchanged between loved ones, a day dedicated to loving thoughts. It is fitting that in this month three patriots whose lives, more than any others, symbolize the true spirit of love to God, to country, and their fellow man: George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, and Thomas Edison.

George Washington, first President of the United States, whose influence helped to shape this nation, whose principles created and continue to determine our cherished American way of life.

Throughout his life George Washington displayed understanding, calmness, dedication to purpose and principles, devotion to God, his country and love of humanity. It is to be hoped that the study of his life this month will teach us to follow his spiritual qualities and his patriotism.

Abraham Lincoln, the man who rose to greatness at the country's need and became a Man of Destiny. His uncanny knowledge of the human heart, his belief in the dignity of the common man and his rights, expressed in his immortal words, "As I would not be a slave, so I would not be a master. This expresses my idea of democracy." His lack of vindictiveness when his country struggled in its darkest hour "with malice towards none, with charity for all." His skill in the use of words—his Gettysburg Address is a model for classic simplicity and greatness of expression.

Thomas Alva Edison, American inventor, whose 1000 inventions have revolutionized civilization in the last century. Whose skill, ingenuity and devotion to purpose gave us so many of the comforts and pleasures we enjoy today.

The fine characteristics of loyalty, integrity, naturalness, courage, optimism and love found in these three men who helped to establish and lead our country can be best expressed in the words of Shakespeare:

"His life was gentle, and the elements

So mixed in him that Nature might stand up

And say to all the world, "This was a man!"

In a country blessed by the lives of many great men no three could be found whose lives more truly express the spirit of love and devotion.

If we could all follow the pattern of their characters, their patriotism and their devotion to purpose we could feel safe in the future of our country.

J. Lee Milligan Aids Progress In Panhandle

A substantial contributor to progress in the Panhandle, J. Lee Milligan, located at 923 N. Cleveland in Amarillo, has established a well deserved reputation for dependability and efficiency in excavating, road work, ditching and trucking, dragline work, terracing, bulldozer work and general sewer construction.

The Milligan organization uses only the most modern equipment on its jobs, which is kept in top condition and repair at all times and have adequate units in reserve to prevent expensive breakdowns. Their crews of skilled operators and earth-moving workmen are thoroughly experienced and at all times supervised by Mr. Milligan personally.

The Milligan organization is now doing the draining, ditching and dredging work in connection with the deepening of the lake bed on the Lawrence housing project in Amarillo.

J. Lee Milligan has a modern caliche crushing plant in Canyon. This plant not only serves his own needs for crushed caliche but business is solicited from other contractors and the public. The caliche will be crushed to the size specified and delivered to the job as required.

Many cities, towns and counties, as well as farmers and general contractors, have called on this general excavating contractor for his services and like his method of dealing as well as the efficient manner in which the work is executed.

Whether it is by contract, fixed fee, or cost-plus basis, Mr. Milligan delivers quality work at the lowest price possible consistent with the job at hand. He is to be congratulated on his smooth functioning organization and the part he has played in the development of this entire area.

son came to Canyon to become a member of the English Department of WTSC. She had just received her M.A. degree from Texas University 19 days before joining the college. She immediately made herself a vital part of the English Department, the Church, and this community.

Mrs. Velton Sargee, president of the circle, was in charge and opened the meeting with a scripture reading from the fifth chapter of Matthew. The Society sang "Love Divine" and Mrs. L. H. Brotherton and Mrs. Curtis Strader sang "For a Little Bit of Love," after which Mrs. Sargee introduced Miss Richardson who took the group through the high-points of her life. She told of the privilege she had of being reared in a right home by God-fearing parents who held family prayers, returned thanks at meals, and at all times for the blessings of God; attending regularly church services, Sunday School and prayer meeting. She said she had always been "sorta the happy kind;" she had always loved folks. She spoke of what a help the Bible is and that she had read it through more than 60 times. Miss Richardson taught school 20 years before she received $100 a month. When she began teaching she taught for $40 a month for a nine month term and was paid with two twenty dollar gold pieces. On Sunday after she received her first salary she took one twenty dollar gold piece to her pastor, telling him that gold was too precious to use for common things and she wanted to give it to God.

When she was leaving home for her first teaching position her father said to her, "Moss, brains will take you a certain distance and you have plenty of brains, but my experience has taught me that brass will take you farther."

Miss Richardson said God had always been a close friend of hers, and that at 16, following her conversion she had promised to "Give all she had to God." She had earlier promised to give a tenth of all the money she made to God and with her conversion promised God her life. All who have had the privilege of knowing Miss Richardson know she has never failed to keep this promise.

Miss Richardson said she had taken "He Leadeth Me" for the "theme song" of her life. Asked by a friend one day what she thought about she replied "I think about God," and with that she closed an interesting and inspirational talk.

Mrs. Nicholas sang "Love's Old Sweet Song" accompanied by Mrs. Frieze and the meeting was closed with the society singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

A social hour followed. Punch, cakes, and nuts were served from a lovely table presided over by Mrs. Lester Hill and Mrs. Curtis Strader.

After this gifts were given Miss Richardson among them a lovely basket of gladiolas presented by Mrs. James Cornette and a love offering for Miss Richardson's favorite missions was made. Enough that she was able to send $13.83 each to Africa and Peru.

Besides 35 members of the Society, Mrs. James Cornette, Mrs. Winston Wilbanks, Mrs. Mittie Workman, Mrs. E. A. Irvin, Miss Ida Shepherd, and Mrs. C. L. Gordon-Cummings were present.

Charles Robert Neblett spent the week-end visiting his sister, Dorothy Elizabeth Neblett, who is attending Lindenwood College at St. Charles, Mo.

Two important items have been added to the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum this past week, both well worth your time to go see. One a valentine 99 years old, given by Mrs. Irene T. Payton, 209 Prospect, Amarillo. It was originally sent to Mrs. Payton's grandmother, then Miss Catherine Furstenberg, in Hecker, Ill., in 1856. A beautiful valentine.

The other a novel exhibit shows the story of wheat from the time it is harvested until it is taken from the bakery in the form of bread.

This exhibit was built by the Oregon Wheat Growers Association and was shown during the recent National Wheat Growers Association convention held in Amarillo. It was through the efforts of Buff Morris and Kenneth Kendrick, president of the National Wheat Growers Association, who is a graduate of WTSC, that this exhibit was secured for the Museum.

It took 1500 man hours to build this display, which shows a harvester cutting the wheat, trucks, trains, automobiles and many people all moving about in perfect order. The motor to run it costs $150 and the Texas Wheat Growers Association gave $75 and the Museum will have to pay the other $75.

The Museum has no funds for this purpose and Boone McClure, director of the museum, is racking his brain to find some means of raising this money. The best thing I know for him to do is to get the Sue Hite Club to give another dinner. They raised enough to give the Girl Scouts and the Library each $80, which is just wonderful! All children should be taken to the Museum to see the story of wheat shown in such an educational and interesting way.

"Volumes have been written on how to win friends and influence people, how to have peace of mind, how to retire in comfort, how to be the life of a party, how to bake a cake, and how to get along with your mother-in-law. It is about time someone said a word on how to be silent. They say silence is golden but it looks like our generation has gone off the gold standard for good."

—Gaston Foote

Dr. Leta Boswell and Mrs. J. M. White drove to Albany over the week-end to visit with relatives and friends.

Dan Sanders told me this story. It seems two men, one from Texas and one from Kentucky were arguing about whose state was the greater. The Kentuckian got provoked as the Texan topped everything he said, and at last he said, "We've got gold enough in Kentucky to build a fence six feet tall and four feet wide all around Texas." This didn't phase the Texan a second. He replied, "You go right ahead and build it, if we like it, we'll buy it."

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Hines of Rutherford, N. C., most recent set of twins... their third in five years... gave them an even dozen children. "The family is now large enough," said the father, "and don't think they are 'cheaper by the dozen.' I expect that's right. We found out long ago that there's nothing to that old saying, 'Two can live cheaper than one.'"

It must be that we are going to have an early spring. Remember the mocking bird and the bluebirds that came to the Webbs? My violets are in bloom, true the groundhog did go back, but little boys are drawing two hearts entwined on the sidewalks, with two sets of initials — loves — and I would rather trust the "young man's fancy" as a harbinger of spring than a groundhog any day.

The Randall County Home Demonstration Council, which is composed of 12 clubs in Randall County, with a membership of about 100 women, will hold a White Elephant Sale in conjunction with the Randall County Junior Livestock show Saturday, February 26. The White Elephant sale will be held in the Randall County courthouse beginning at 9 o'clock and will last all day. In addition to the sale there will be baked goods, pickles, and other items for sale. The money raised will be used for the Council. The clubs will serve coffee and a doughnut for five cents, provide a lounge for the weary and furnish music.

Mrs. Thornton G. Dewey who lives seven miles northwest of Canyon and is council representative is equally interested in the Junior Livestock sale. She would like to stress the importance of supporting and attending the Junior Livestock show. If the boys and girls of the FFA and 4-H are to continue raising prime animals for this show, with all the work that goes into it, they need the enthusiasm, support, and interest of their elders.

The cattle, swine and sheep are sold at auction after the judging if the owners desire. Mrs. Dewey says "I have inquired and have learned that if they can just make expenses (which is not always done) they feel lucky. True some make money but if there were more potential buyers attending there would be more bidding and a better price for their efforts. To me the FFA and 4-H is the most wonderful thing in the world for youngsters and it is well organized, but not enough people know the wonderful things they do."

At the show this year, Mrs. George Nance has given a bred registered Hereford heifer, in memory of her late husband, Geo. Nance, to the Show Association. The Show Association will give this heifer to some exhibitor at this show. The winner of this heifer will return to the Association her heifer at the 1956 Show and each following year a descendant of this first heifer will be given at the show. This is a fitting tribute to George Nance who was not only a believer in the development of livestock, but was also a believer in the development of boys into good men.

Mr. Nance had always been a helpful friend to boys interested in livestock. He was never too busy to counsel with and explain the finer points of judging cattle to boys who came to his ranch. In his lifetime he furnished calves worth hundreds of dollars to boys to feed at a price they could afford to pay. No tribute could be paid him that would be more fitting or would have pleased him better than this gift of Mrs. Nance.

On Thursday or Friday, depending on the weather, before the sale Mr. and Mrs. Dewey will fly over Canyon, Happy, and Umbarger dropping bills about the sale. If Thursday is a nice day they may fly then for fear or rather as Mrs. Dewey said, hoping it will rain or snow Friday.

"Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin." —James 4:17.

TOO YOUNG

"These eggs are very small," complained the young housewife as she stood in front of the egg case at the grocery store. "They're straight from the farm this morning, madam," said the grocer. "That's the trouble with these farmers," she replied. "They're so anxious to get these eggs sold they take them off the nest too soon."

President Eisenhower asked Congress to concentrate on promoting long-term economic growth in the nation rather than seeking "an immediate upward thrust to economic activity."

Army Wants Men For Recruits With Small Families

The Army has adopted a new and more lenient policy for personnel with dependents who want to volunteer for enlistment or reenlistment, according to Capt. Vern O. Peters of the U. S. Army Recruiting Station, 212 E. 7th St., Amarillo.

The new regulation, which applies to male personnel only, authorizes enlistment of persons without prior military service provided they do not have more than one dependent, pass the Army's physical examination, and qualify in mental category I or II on the Armed Forces Qualification Test.

In the past this category of personnel were ineligible to volunteer for three year enlistments. Persons with prior military service and not more than two dependents, who are eligible for enlistment in grades E-1 through E-3, may volunteer provided they qualify in mental category I or II.

Prior service men eligible for enlistment in grades E-4 or higher, or if entitled to temporary promotion on date of enlistment to E-4 or higher, may enlist without regard to number of dependents.

Individuals, who enlist on the day following separation from last active duty in the Army, may do so without regard to number of dependents or the grade in which enlisted, provided they are otherwise qualified.

For applicants who do not meet these requirements, waivers may be granted in especially meritorious cases of personnel with six years or more of honorable service. This action does not affect eligibility requirements for personnel with no dependents.

Captain Peters stated that the new regulation is of special benefit to those who want to take advantage of the Army's training school program, which allows qualified high school graduates who volunteer for three years to choose a service school and be assured of attendance before they are required to enlist.

Full information on the Army's new policy for accepting volunteers with one dependent may be obtained at the U. S. Army Recruiting Station by calling upon M-Sgt. Gilbert Herman who will be in Canyon regularly on Saturdays, 9 to 12 o'clock.

A LINE ON PRIVILEGE

A certain Moscow citizen stood in so well with the party that he was granted a permit which, among other things, allowed him to buy a railroad ticket without having to stand in line for it. One day he went to the railroad station and presented his precious permit.

"Get in that line over there," he was told.

"But," protested the privileged citizen, "this permit allows me to buy a ticket without standing in line!"

"I know that comrade," rejoined the station agent, "and that is the line for people who don't have to stand in line to buy tickets."

MUM 8 YEARS

Chicago. — It took a dispute over who should claim their 18-year-old son as a dependent for income-tax purpose to make a couple—Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Micele—speak to each other after eight years of silence. Since July, 1946, the Miceles have communicated only by notes on a bulletin board above the kitchen sink. After their quarrel, Micele, who had been living in one room of the house, moved out and Mrs. Micele filed suit for divorce.

HOME BUILDING

In 1954 there was a record new spurt in home-building with an increasing trend away from apartment units and toward single-family homes. The number of dwellings placed under construction in 1954 was 1,215,000, or ten per cent more than the 1,103,800 units started in 1953, according to the Labor Department. During the first nine months of 1954, nine out of every ten dwellings placed under construction were the one-family type.

GOOD QUESTION

A farmer visiting his son's college. Watching students in a chemistry class, he was told they were looking for a universal solvent.

"What's that?" asked the farmer.

"A liquid that will dissolve anything."

"That's a great idea," agreed the farmer.

"When you find it, what are you going to keep it in?"

FARM OUTLOOK

Price supports on most basic crops will remain at or close to 90 per cent of parity, according to Ezra Taft Benson, Agriculture Secretary. Any decline in net income would be caused by planting restrictions made necessary by crop surpluses, he said, not by price supports.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

A Mix-Up in the Mails

For some unknown reason, it seems that some of the mail sent to me recently did not reach its destination. An immediate investigation was commenced to determine what had happened to these particular letters, but to date we have found no trace of them.

Of course, we get lots and lots of mail and there were only a few pieces that failed to arrive. It so happened that the matters referred to in the missing letters were handled by telephone and no great damage was done. However, I think it is highly important that everyone should understand that when a letter is written to this office, it will be answered as promptly as possible.

Should you write a letter and not receive a reply within a reasonable time, you may be sure that something has gone wrong. In such event, I would deeply appreciate it if you would write me another letter concerning the matter. If it is urgent, I would appreciate a wire or telephone call.

This same type of situation arose at our residence here. However, in that case the letters did reach the house, but we don't know what happened to them after that.

It seems that the eight-year-old took them from the postman when he arrived home after school. He put them in his pocket and went off to play cowboys and Indians. Our last account of the letters was from a neighbor who told him (Robert) to take them home immediately.

What happened after that, is a complete mystery; so, if any of you wrote to any of the Rogers family at 5535 Nevada Avenue, Northwest, in Washington, and didn't receive an answer, please let me know, as your letter may be in the hands of some of the cowboys or Indians of Robert's travels that afternoon.

Furor in Washington

Quite a furor broke loose here last week over the action of the President in cancelling an airline route to Hawaii. The story here was that the Civil Aeronautics Board (a five-man board) had unanimously approved granting a certificate to Northwest Airlines, who would operate the route without a subsidy.

After this action by the CAB, the President ordered the CAB to certify Pan-American World Airways to continue the Seattle-Honolulu service and to cancel Northwest Airlines' authority to compete over that route.

The story also had it that Pan-Am was to receive subsidy. This action really stirred up a tempest of no small proportions in the Capital City.

Northwest Airlines had pioneered this route in the beginning and Pan-Am had been granted a certificate to compete with them. This situation had progressed without repercussions until the recent conflicting actions of the President and the CAB. Northwest Airlines also had its main offices in the district of a Member of Congress who has been one of the staunchest supporters of the President.

The result was that the White House reversed itself, and both Northwest and Pan-Am were ordered certified for operation over the Portland - Seattle - Honolulu route. A reversal of this sort is highly unusual. It is entirely probable that somebody went to the wood shed for failing to give the President all the facts in the first instance.

Aviation

The House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee has been holding hearings with members of the several agencies under our jurisdiction.

Our hearing this morning concerned the Civil Aeronautics Authority. It was most interesting, and I wish I could convey to you the vast information that was made available in such a short time.

Air travel in this country is progressing by leaps and bounds, and it is estimated that by 1960, airplanes will be carrying passengers the same number of passenger miles as railroads. Last year the railroads carried passengers approximately 32 billion miles. The air passenger miles amounted to about 15 billion.

The CAA was set up to encourage and foster the development of civil aeronautics and air commerce in the United States and abroad, and other purposes. Among these was the control of safety factors, which are of such great importance to the individual and the industry. The many safety requirements and the constant vigilance of the CAA makes one wonder why there is ever an air accident.

Blood Pressure May Be High or Low in Persons

AUSTIN: Blood pressure—what does it mean?

Nothing more, says State Health Officer Henry A. Holle during this annual observance of heart disease control, than a measure of pressure against artery walls as blood courses through the body.

Everyone's blood pressure, according to the explanation, is highest when the heart pumps a fresh load of blood into elastic-walled arteries, and lowest when the heart pauses between beats for refilling. The high level is systolic, the lowest is diastolic pressure.

Physicians measure blood pressure by wrapping an inflatable rubber cuff around the patient's arm. When air is pumped into the cuff a column of mercury is forced into a glass tube. The height to which it climbs indicates the pressure inside the cuff and the compression brought against blood vessels in the arm.

Then, using a stethoscope, the physician determines systolic pressure by listening to the sound produced by blood flowing through the artery when the pressure in it is just above that in the cuff. The characteristic change of sound at the diastolic level is easily recognized by the physician.

No clear-cut line can be drawn between "normal" and "abnormal" blood pressure, the health official emphasizes.

"But it is generally agreed that a systolic pressure exceeding 140 or a diastolic pressure above 90 deserves further checking."

Although age does not bring an automatic increase in blood pressure, high pressure—called hypertension—is most common in middle or advanced years.

Like temperature, high blood pressure is only an indication of certain diseases, rather than a disease itself. Only a physician, after careful study, can determine what it means.

Blood pressures vary greatly in the same person—during illnesses, and emotional stress, and with rest and sedative medicines. High blood pressure is often due to hardening of the arteries, kidney infections, brain or gland tumors, or to heart defects.

Symptoms of all types of high blood pressure are similar, although in many cases there are no symptoms. Headache is common, usually a pounding at the back of the head. Other signs include dizziness, fatigue, irritability, loss of memory, or heart pain.

Many of these symptoms may occur in people with normal blood pressure, so they are not automatic indicators of blood pressure irregularity.

Uncomplicated hypertension need not be a serious problem. Patients often live long and active lives without good medical management of their condition. And the best way to prevent complications is to be completely examined periodically by a physician.

"That's a smart health habit for anyone to acquire," Dr. Holle concluded.

CITY TAXES UP

According to a study of the Citizens Research Council of Michigan, based on figures submitted by just about all of the 409 U. S. cities with populations of more than 30,000, the average actual dollar tax rate last year was $50.93 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, up $4.81 over 1953 and 30.7 per cent over 1954.

The most interesting person in the world is the average man. The average man is 39 around the chest, 40 around the waist, 90 around the golf course and a nuisance around the home.

He gets up first in the morning, is second at the morning newspaper, third at the bathroom and practically misses the bus to town.

He wears a conventional gray or brown suit with a white shirt but always thought he'd be at his best in a checkered suit with a dark flannel shirt and a bright red tie.

He passes up the French-fried potatoes and the hot rolls at lunch and then eats mince pie to bridge the gap.

He can hit two quail out of five tries, catches an occasional fish, plays poker once a month, opens with a large pair, bluffs when he is winner and doesn't like conversation when he is loser.

He complains about taxes and politics. He has a favorite football team but will take the other team and 14 points.

He drinks three cups of coffee per day, likes his toast hot, and is always going to clean out the garage some Saturday afternoon.

He has three false teeth, five fillings, a small cavity and needs a hair-cut. He shaves once a day, with an extra thrown in on appropriate occasions.

He takes reducing exercises regularly three days in a row sometimes, and holds his stomach in when people look like they are about to tell him he is fat.

He wears the ties people give him for Christmas and knows some stories about the same color. He can't remember much about the Lady of the Lake or Julius Caesar, but can do a complete rendition of "The Face on the Barroom Floor."

He reads mystery stories and doesn't peep into the back of the book to see how they came out. He likes certain pictures no matter who painted them and couldn't tell you, for the life of him, what Mrs. So and So wore at the dance.

He needs a new suit of dinner clothes and there is a rip in his hunting coat. He is supposed to live to be 74, had pains at 22, should have been shot at 30 and feels fine at 55. He has sparrows in the attic, termites in the flooring and mice in the pantry.

He's going to buy a small farm some day, just out of town and live there, and do part of the farm work personally. He was too old to join the army, too young to enjoy social security and too lazy to exercise down to the correct weight. You meet him every day in the bank, the store, the office, on the street and in front of the mirror.

P.S. He's a regular guy. You really ought to know him better. —Author Unknown.

G.O.P. CONVENTION

Three cities — Chicago, Philadelphia, and Atlantic City — sent delegations to bid for the right to be host city to the 1956 Republican presidential nominating convention. Chicago also offered its air - conditioned auditorium, scene of both party conclaves in 1952, to Paul M. Butler, Democratic National Chairman, for that party's meeting in 1956. The sites are not expected to be chosen for some time yet, however.

For the Solid Gold Cadillac?

The most expensive gasoline in the world costs about $1,400 a gallon. That's the average cost of experimental fuels used in an American Petroleum Institute study made to determine the behavior of fuel in internal combustion engines.

Every gallon of modern gasoline contains from 3,500 to 5,000 different chemical compounds made up of hydrogen and carbon. Producing these pure hydrocarbons and putting them through as many as 6,500 tests to determine their chemical and physical properties is an expensive process. It's an example of the high cost of progress in petroleum research.

BRITISH TAXES

London — Only 35 persons in Britain were left with incomes of more than $16,800 after paying taxes for the fiscal year 1952-53. In order to retain that much, a single person would have to earn more than 50,000 pounds ($140,000). On an income of $140,000, the tax for a single person is about $123,000.

elling us to re-arrange our concepts of human relationships and overhaul our attitudes. It is a difficult and not altogether happy experience for many of us.

But we are not asked if we like it. Times and conditions command us to make the best of it. We can't put Humpty Dumpty back like he was before, if we wanted to. So each of us and all of us are compelled to meet a crisis the like of which the human race has never before faced. It calls for the exercise of the highest mental, moral, and spiritual qualities within the capacity of man. Rotary believes that its IDEAL OF SERVICE holds the key to the solution of many of the world's new problems.

International Service Committee. In order to implement these concepts of man's new responsibilities, each Rotary Club maintains an International Service Committee. It is the function of this committee to devise ways and means of bringing world-wide conditions and problems before the entire club, thus stimulating interest in and knowledge of international affairs.

As a method of accomplishing this purpose this committee brings to the club each year a number of programs dealing with different phases of world affairs. One time it may be an address by a leading local citizen who has studied and traveled abroad. Or, the committee may present a forum discussion of, let's say, the problems involved in the Formosan situation. A third program may feature an address by a foreign student who happens to be in the community. United Nations often comes in for an airing. And on it goes for a half-dozen or more programs during a year — and year after year.

In addition to these programs before the club, the International Service Committee does much else to promote international understanding. It takes programs to schools and colleges and to other clubs in and out of the community. Occasionally a club, more often a Rotary district or regional organization of clubs, will send a teacher or a brilliant college student abroad to study and to bring back an interpretation of the foreign conditions and problems with which he or she has had contact. Sometimes a club will invite a foreign student to be its guest for awhile, studying our way of life and interpreting his own country to the local club and other organizations.

The Rotary Foundation Fellowship Program. One of Rotary's most effective instruments for the cultivation of international goodwill is its Fellowship program — a youth program established soon after World War II. This program presently operates through three different projects, as follows:

1. Fellowships for advanced study abroad.
2. Research Fellowships abroad.
3. Rotary Foundation Fellows as speakers before clubs and other organizations.

These projects are administered by the Rotary Foundation Trustees and under rules established by Rotary International, so that only the best qualified people can receive Fellowships.

Under this program more than 600 choice young men and young women, representing more than 50 countries, have each spent at least one year in study abroad. They have chosen 33 different countries in which to do their work.

It is a significant fact that Communist countries do not participate in this program. In fact, Rotary clubs in these countries have been abolished by the Soviet dictatorship, just as happened during World War II in all Nazi-controlled states. Dictatorships of all kinds are inconsistent with the principles and spirit of Rotary.

In the few years since the Foundation was established 3,450 clubs throughout the Rotary world have each contributed an average of $10 per member to this fund. The total contributions to the beginning of the current year, July 1, 1954, amount to $3,556,869. These contributions came from both clubs and individuals. Individual gifts have run as high as $50,000. There is every reason to expect that in time this Foundation Fellowship Fund will reach $50,000,000 and will be providing many hundreds of Fellowships annually.

The Club Service Committee. Rotary's fourth arm for advancing the IDEAL OF SERVICE, the Club Service Committee, is charged with the responsibility of serving the club. That is, it is the duty of this committee to keep the machinery of the club in good working order and functioning at a high level of efficiency. Hence, the success of the organization, at the local level, is in large measure dependent upon the vision, the judgment, the resourcefulness, the tact, and the enthusiasm of the Club Service Committee.

Attendance Committee. Under the direction of the Board of Directors this committee works through some ten sub-committees. Among these is the Attendance Committee. Rotary insists that members shall attend meetings with a high degree of regularity. Rotary believes that its program is big enough and important enough to challenge the best that its individual members can give it. Furthermore, it believes that its members need Rotary and will be better and happier citizens through full and active participation in its program. The values inherent in Rotary cannot be had by a member unless he is imbued with its ideals, enlightened as to its purpose, and actively identified with its program. These cannot be had, in absentia.

For this reason Rotary rules provide that if a member is absent as many as four times in succession, or fails to attend 60% of the meetings in either half of the Rotary year, he is automatically dropped from the club's roster. It is assumed that if one is habitually absent, either there is some personal reason therefor, or he is not in tune with Rotary's ideals and program.

However, Rotary realizes that absence is sometimes essential even with the best Rotarians. To take care of such situations attendance at another club before the next weekly meeting is accepted as a satisfactory substitute. This is called a "make-up" and keeps the member in good standing.

It may appear to some that attendance at a neighboring club is too high a price to pay for membership. As a matter of fact, there is much to be gained by an occasional visit to another club than one's own. One meets and associates with leading citizens in other communities, thus widening friendships and acquiring new points of view. Inter-club attendance also cultivates good-will among neighbors and makes for area or regional co-operation. "Make up" attendance develops one's sense of loyalty to his club and tends to intensify his interest in and respect for its program.

Classifications Committee. Since Rotary adheres to the classification principle, it is the duty of the Club Service Committee to administer it. This is done through a sub-committee on classifications. Briefly, it is the function of this committee to make "a classifications survey of the community; compile from the survey a roster of filled and unfilled classifications, using the outline of classifications as a guide; urge upon the members the importance of proposing names for the unfilled classifications; review, where necessary, existing classifications represented in the club; and counsel with the Board of Directors on all classification problems."

Program Committee. The success of a Rotary Club is dependent in no small measure upon the quality of the weekly program. It is here that the spirit of Rotary is seen in action and is felt by all — that is, if the Program Committee discharges fully its responsibility. Failure to bring informative and inspirational programs will greatly impair the organization and probably cause a loss in memberships. Also, it will reduce the value of the club to its individual members and to the community and will, therefore, largely defeat the purpose for which the club exists. Good clubs have good programs.

Meals and Meeting Places. Another important function of the Club Service Committee is to provide an adequate, convenient, and comfortable meeting place and to see to it that the food service is entirely acceptable. Earthy as it may seem these physical factors greatly influence men's enjoyment of their club. Many a club has found its going rough because of poor food and a sub-standard place of meeting.

Membership Committee. The matter of admissions to Rotary is under the administration of the Club Service Committee, acting through a sub-committee on memberships. It is the duty of this committee to "consider all proposals for membership from the personal side" and "thoroughly investigate the character, business, social, and community standing and general eligibility of all persons proposed for membership and report their decisions on all applications to the Board of Directors." The proper functioning of this committee has much to do with Rotary's standing in the community.

Other important functions of the Club Service Committee and its sub-divisions have to do with fellowship, the issuance of a club publication, the interpretation of Rotary to the members of the club, the interpretation of Rotary to the community, and all other local matters that might effect the general welfare of the organization.

Conclusion

In conclusion and by way of summary of Part I, it may be said that Rotary International pursues its IDEAL OF SERVICE through four major committees, each dedicated to the achievement of one of the four objects of the organization. These objects are:

1. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;
2. High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society;
3. The application of the IDEAL OF SERVICE by every Rotarian to his personal, business and community life;
4. The advancement of international understanding, good will, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the IDEAL OF SERVICE.

Part II

The Canyon Rotary Club

A New Lamp Lighted. Between February 23, 1905, when the first Rotary Club was organized and December 3, 1928, when the Canyon Club was admitted to Rotary International, 3005 clubs were chartered and were in operation in many parts of the world. This record of growth and achievement was little short of phenomenal and foreshadowed even greater achievements in the years to follow.

In the fall of 1928, Rue P. Parcells, of Amarillo, who was then Governor of Rotary International District No. 41, initiated a movement to organize a club in Canyon. Joe A. Hill, at that time President of West Texas State Teachers College and for seven years as honorary member of the Amarillo Rotary Club, was commissioned by the Governor to assist with the organization.

On October 22, 20 men met at Thompson Hardware and Furniture store and decided to proceed with the proposed project. Application cards were signed by 17 of them.

On October 29, 15 men met again and elected officers to serve to the end of the Rotary year June 30, 1929. Joe A. Hill was elected President; Clyde W. Warwick, vice-President; Oscar Gano, Secretary; Albert Terry, Treasurer; and Ray McReynolds, Sergeant-at-arms. These men, together with T. C. Thompson, Tom Knighton, and Wesley Kleinschmidt, became the first Board of Directors.

No record is found of the other seven members who were present at that meeting, but pictures of the following Club members appear in the Canyon News of November 15: Clyde W. Warwick, Oscar Gano, Albert Terry, T. C. Thompson, Wesley Kleinschmidt, Tom Knighton, Ray McReynolds, Travis Shaw, R. P. Jarrett, Sr., J. S. (Pinky) Hand, W. D. Pike, D. A. Shirley, Rev. W. C. Kunze, Burt Newlin, H. A. Brown, A. H. Bryant, and Joe A. Hill.

The first weekly meeting after organization was held at noon, Thursday, November 13, in the Home Economics dining-room of West Texas State Teachers College, where the Club continued to meet until a more centrally located place could be found. Fred Bone, president of the Amarillo Club, accompanied by ten of his members, brought greetings.

At the second weekly meeting (November 20), R. P. Jarrett discussed "Rotary's Code of Ethics." Bob Pool of the Amarillo Club "drove his airplane down to make up his attendance." Delmar Brown was the first local guest.

On November 27, the third meeting, the first classification talk was made by Lahroy A. White of the Amarillo Club, who spoke on "Life Insurance." The following new members were introduced: W. A. Warren, R. B. Meredith, G. A. Farlow, J. B. Elliston, and Lee R. Johnson.

On December 3, the Canyon Club was elected to membership in Rotary International and given the number 3005. It was placed in Rotary District 41. The Chicago office says: "The Club reported the names of the following charter members: Harry A. Brown, masseur; A. Harvey Bryant, public utilities; James Byrle Elliston, real estate; George Allen Farlow, household appliances; Oscar W. Gano, abstractor; Jewel S. Hand, oil distribution; Joseph Abner Hill, club administration; Lee Richard Johnson, lumberman; J. Wesley Kleinschmidt, retail oil and gas; Tom H. Knighton, grocer; Wesley Charles Kunze, Protestant minister; Ray McReynolds, farmer; Rule B. Meredith, electric utilities; Burt Newlin, furniture; William Darrell Pike, meat cutter; Albert E. Terry, photography; Thomas C. Thompson, hardware; William Arthur Warren, drygoods; Clyde W. Warwick, newspaper."

On Tuesday night, January 1, 1929, a charter was presented to the Club by District Governor Rue P. Parcells. Fifteen Rotarians from Amarillo and two from Dalhart attended. Besides being charter night, it was also the first Rotary Ann meeting and about 70 people were present. In addition to the address by the District Governor and

A Good Start. During the remainder of that Rotary year, two noteworthy features appeared on the program:

1. Canyon Rotary played host to six neighboring clubs—Amarillo, Plainview, Pampa, Lubbock, Dalhart, and Littlefield. The Canyon News of April 25 asserted that this was the first inter-city Rotary meeting in the Texas Panhandle.

2. The Club heard three different programs on international affairs. On January 22, 1929, Miss Jennie C. Ritchie spoke on conditions in Europe as she had seen them on a recent three months tour. Six weeks later Dr. C. A. Pierle, who had recently terminated a ten-year teaching career at a Chinese university, spoke on China. On April 16, Miss Mary E. Hudspeth, who had spent the previous year with D. A. Shirley, chairman of the Program Committee, presiding, Miss Ada V. Clark sang the "Cuckoo Clock," accompanied by Miss Hazel Allen. Fred Bone, president of the Amarillo Club, brought greetings and Rev. J. R. Sharp of Dalhart (now a member of the Canyon Club) and Horace Russell of Amarillo made short talks.

Joe A. Hill accepted the charter in the name of the new organization and declared, according to the Canyon News two days later, that he believed the Club would "take a great part in the life of the community, and that Canyon would be a better place as a result of the influence of the Club."

There are three possible dates for a Club birthday: October 29, 1928, when the Club was actually organized and officers elected; December 3, 1928, when the Club was formally admitted to Rotary International; January 1, 1929, when the charter was presented. In study at the University of Madrid, spoke on her observations and experiences in Spain.

That eventful first Rotary year which ended, as all Rotary years do, on June 30, closed with the re-election of all officers. Though officers and members were Rotarily illiterate, what some had doubted at first was now plainly evident — Canyon offered abundant opportunity for the type of service which Rotary had to offer.

But it is not the purpose here to present a year by year account of the Club's achievements. Rather, specific cases, projects and achievements will be used to illustrate the manner in which, and the extent to which, Canyon Rotary has implemented the ideals and purposes of the international organization, as outlined in Part I.

Vocational Service Committee. As pointed out and explained in Part I, membership in Rotary is based upon the principle of vocational classification. That is, membership in a given club is restricted to one representative from each trade, vocation, or profession in the community, except that it is permissible for a Rotarian's business associate to become also an associate in Rotary.

Sometimes a man is engaged in two or three enterprises, but unless he gives 60% of his time to one particular line he is not eligible for membership.

On the other hand, a business or profession is often split into several different lines of specialization. Medicine, for example, may be represented in a given club by any one of several kinds of specialists — general practice, surgery, heart specialists, eye, ear, nose, and throat, dentistry, etc. Agriculture may be represented by a wheat farmer, a citrus grower, a cattle man, or any one of a half-dozen other special lines of farming.

In some respects the work of the Vocational Service Committee is less obvious than that of most any other committee of the Club. The message which a Rotarian carries back to his non-Rotarian friends in his vocation or profession is quietly delivered through his daily conduct of his business and in his casual relationships. Now and then it may be presented on public vocational programs, but never in a way identified with Rotary.

It is not the function of a Rotarian to exhort. His life is expected to speak through example. A GOOD Rotarian lives by the principle of "SERVICE ABOVE SELF", whether selling to a customer, buying from a distributor, meeting the competition of a neighbor enterprise, or dealing with the problems of employer-employee relationships.

Continuing the 26 year pattern, the present Vocational Service Committee is doing a praise-worthy job. In the very beginning of the Rotary year, it worked out a most commendable program and thus far it has followed through with near perfection. Among its projects are:

1. The wide use of the Four-Way Test, as explained in Part I. A very interesting presentation of this project, in the form of a forum discussion, has been made before the Club, and an attractive Four-Way Test poster was given each member for framing and display in offices and show windows.

2. Four-Way Test forums have been conducted before and with high school groups—also with other community units. According to present plans it will be presented to the whole community through the local press between February 23 and June 30.

3. The committee recently presented a forum discussion of vocational service, explaining carefully but interestingly its meaning, its purpose, and its method of operation.

4. The committee's program includes several meetings with junior and senior high school students in which vocational problems will be discussed. Along with this plan is another which invites high school students to visit with business men of the community in their places of business with a view to learning something about the nature, the requirements, and the opportunities of the various business enterprises.

5. The book, "SERVICE IS MY BUSINESS," is scheduled for review before the Club at an early date, when each member will be urged to buy a copy.

The Community Service Committee. The Canyon Club rightly feels a heavy obligation to the students of West Texas State College. It looks upon these young people as guests of the community. During the Club's first year it entertained some 350 freshmen and all College athletes. In the second year it added high school athletes to its program and started a college loan fund. In more recent years it has created several scholarships for outstanding high school graduates in various parts of the Panhandle. These scholarships are administered by local school officials and the Dean of the College.

The loan fund has been used by dozens of students under the administration of the Community Service Committee and the College Dean. Never has a year passed in the life of the Club that it has not taken thought of both high school and college students.

Citizenship Day. In 1940, this committee, through the initiative of S. H. Condon, inaugurated what the Club called Citizenship Day. Forty youth then becoming voters were guests of the Club and participated in an appropriate program stressing the privileges and duties of citizenship in a free society. Repeated for several years, this project was allowed to "wither" about 1947, largely because Mr. Condon became overloaded with community responsibilities. There is now a good prospect that the project will be revived.

For years the Rotary Club led in the maintenance and direction of Boy Scout work, and today each member contributes $1 per month to a youth program. Individual Rotarians give much time to different phases of youth work. Both Boy and Girl Scout clubs have been entertained repeatedly as parts of a Community Service program.

Scholarships. In very recent years the Community Service Committee has established a number of Rotary Scholarships among the high school graduates who wish to attend West Texas State College. Candidates are selected largely by the local school officials of their respective high schools, and according to rules set up by the Club and administered by the Community Service Committee in co-operation with the College Dean. From time to time these students are guests of the Club. Contact with the schools from which these students come is maintained through the Dean of the College.

Health Service. In 1951, the Rotary and Lions Clubs jointly made possible the purchase by the city of a fogging-machine which has done much to destroy insects and hold down the incidence of communicable disease. In August, 1954, through the co-operation of the National Polio organization, vaccine was administered to 1500 children, free of charge. In the whole community health program every physician in the town has given 100% support and rendered much free service, two of the leading physicians being Past-Presidents of the Rotary Club and two surgeons and a dentist being active members.

Rotary and Other Organizations. The Community Service Committee has uniformly maintained good relationships with other local organizations. Ever since the Lions Club was organized in 1940, there has been close co-operation between the two clubs on all matters of community welfare. Joint meetings have been held annually—some years more often. Together they have exerted tremendous influence toward community improvement.

If space permitted, many other community service activities could be outlined, such as meetings with the local Chamber of Commerce, sending boys to the annual meeting of the state-wide organization known as Boys' State at Austin, entertaining groups of business men from neighboring communities, entertaining rural groups such as the Farm Bureau, entertaining on various occasions the sons and daughters of Rotarians, entertaining on one occasion the Panhandle Press Association composed of 150 people, and, of course, the annual Rotary Ann banquet. It is no over-statement of fact to say that in every forward movement of the town and county since Rotary was organized here Rotarians have played a leading role.

Carrying Rotary into the Area. Extending the community service idea the committee has carried the Rotary program far beyond its

JOWELL H. D. CLUB HAS REGULAR MEETING FRIDAY

The Jowell Home Demonstration Club held its regular meeting on Wednesday, February 16, in the home of Mrs. Les Raymond. The meeting opened with a "Valentine Quiz." Plans were discussed for the rummage sale that council will hold on Saturday, February 26.

The club also made plans for the hat-making school that will be taught by Mrs. LeRoy Roberts of Wayside. The class will be held in a joint session of the Jowell and Pleasantview clubs on Wednesday, February 23, in the home of Mrs. J. H. Barrett. This is to be an all day meeting in which members are asked to bring card tables and a covered dish for luncheon.

At the meeting the club voted to donate $7.50 to the county library fund. Mrs. I. L. Bauer discussed "Texas Under Six Flags," and Mrs. Earl Davis discussed the state flag, seal, flower, motto, and song.

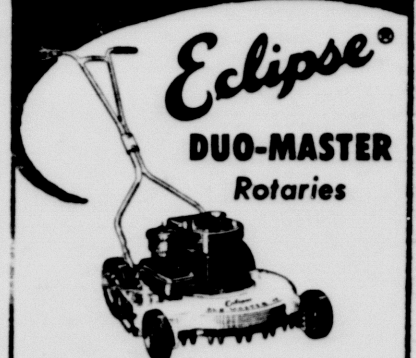

Following the program refreshments of apple pie a la mode, cheese, coffee and tea were served to Mesdames I. L. Bauer, Earl Davis, Ray McDonald, Jake Keeling, Bill Arent, F. E. Culp, E. C. Robinson, Edgar Robinson, J. H. Barrett, T. J. Bonds, Louis Hinders, Eugene Bonds, Jimmy Dietz, and the hostess. There were three visitors, Mesdames Leonard Winters, Flynn Winters, and Arthur McCandless.

The next meeting will be held March 2 in the home of Mrs. Floyd Bonds.

immediate locale. Before this Club was a year old it put on a program before the Amarillo Club and participated in an inter-club meeting at Lubbock. As previously pointed out, many inter-club meetings have been held with most of the Rotary clubs in the Panhandle. In addition to these, joint meetings have been held with the Kiwanis Club of Tulsa and the Lions Club of Hereford. In these ways the Rotary ideal of neighborliness and friendship has been carried to a wide geographical area, thus helping to build regional good-will.

The International Service Committee. Already it has been pointed out that within four months after receiving its charter, the Club had enjoyed three programs by persons who had recently travelled and/or studied abroad. As customarily happens in a community where a college is located many men and women of national and international distinction are guests on the campus. This Club has often availed itself of their presence.

Moreover, the Club as a whole is alert to world problems and with regularity brings to its meetings a variety of programs designed to inform its members upon and quicken their interest in international affairs. This practice has been stepped up since World War II. For example, in the Rotary year 1946-47, seven such programs were given. The next year four representatives of Rotary International addressed the Club, while in 1953, nine such meetings were held.

Also, during the past few years joint meetings on United Nations have been held with the local chapter of the American Association of University Women. In the main, these programs have taken the form of forum discussions of world problems and the meetings have been open to the public.

A French Guest. The International Service Committee has, this Rotary year, completed the most outstanding project in the history of the Club. Through the co-operation of The International Research Fund, it was host for seven weeks to a young French student of agriculture. Pierre Jacquet was a guest for one week in each of seven different Rotary homes. The Club gave him every opportunity to see this section of the United States — not only its agricultural economy and its domestic pattern, but also its educational program, its institutions of religion, and its social and political organization. He attended most of the Club meetings, spoke on two of its programs, and addressed various other groups in the area. Before leaving he was presented many useful gifts, including books, clothing, and money with which to "sight-see" other parts of our country.

On Pierre's return to France the Club wrote a letter to the Paris Club explaining the project and commending the Club's companionable guest to all French Rotarians. A very appreciative letter was received in reply.

An Ideal Made Real. The Canyon Club hopes and believes that the experience was informative and inspirational to young Jacquet and did its part to promote international understanding and good-will. For members of the Canyon Club, the project has reduced to practicality the Rotary ideal of International Service. What is sometimes felt to be a remote and intangible abstraction is easily capable of translation into a workable program.

Club Service Committee. As pointed out in the first part of this brochure, the Club Service Committee is the agency by which the Rotary machine is kept in good operating condition, so that all the objects of Rotary may be effectively achieved. This is a large responsibility — one that requires great insight, an understanding of human nature, a thorough knowledge of Rotary, much patience, and sustained alertness.

Meeting Place, Menu, etc. Looking over the 26 year history it is apparent that on the whole the Club Service Committee has functioned with commendable success. All of the physical factors that enter into the making of a good club have been well cared for. For example, the place of meeting has been well stabilized (no jumping from place to place), is centrally located, is adequate in size and equipment, and enjoys good heating, ventilation, and lighting, and a prompt, excellent, and economical food service. All of these factors are conducive to good attendance, good fellowship, and the overall spirit of Rotary.

Programs. The committee has consistently provided good programs. Rare has been the occasion when a program was not either entertaining, informative, or inspirational — oftentimes all of these. Programs are always prepared — never impromptu. These facts have greatly helped to hold the interest of the members and to make them realize the value of Rotary. In fact, habitually good programs are a major factor in making the objects of Rotary attainable and in no small way determine the success of the club.

Classifications and Memberships. As a rule, the Club Service Committee has done an effective job in the matter of classifications and memberships. It has kept the Club reasonably well informed as to open classifications and has been vigilant about new members. The growth of the Club has not been spectacular, but steady except during drouth and depression years. Starting with 15 members on the day of organization it had, as of January 1, 1955, 60 members. During the first half of this Rotary year there has been a 17.6 per cent increase in membership.

At this point it is worthwhile to notice other statistics on membership. The records show that during these 26 years, 215 men have joined the Canyon Rotary Club. An analysis of that membership list reveals that 14 men have been lost by death, 106 have moved out of the community, 35 have dropped out and are still living in the community, and 60 (as of January 1, 1955) are now members of the Club.

Club Singing. Another successful feature which the Club Service Committee has developed is Club singing. Within the membership are several rather good musicians — vocalists, pianists, and music directors. Consequently, it is fairly easy for the Club to put on a quality music program of its own; it is also easy to get almost unanimous participation in Club singing. This feature is occasionally enriched with music programs from West Texas State College and the high school.

Attendance. The Club's attendance record as a whole is probably about average among the 38 clubs in the district for the last 26 years. As is probably true in most Rotary clubs, the attendance record is injured by the poor attendance of a very few. However, attendance is noticeably better in this Golden Anniversary year, which already has produced several 100% meetings.

Rotary Information Committee. It is the duty of this committee to inform "prospective members of the Club about Rotary and the duties, obligations and privileges they will have as members," before they are taken into the Club. An even greater responsibility is that of instructing new members in the principles, ideals, and practices of Rotary and thus helping them to become Rotarians in spirit.

The Club Bulletin. The Canyon Club's first bulletin, "The Service Clubber," was published in 1933, soon to become a victim of depression and drouth. In 1936, "The Canyon Rotary News" was established. After a short time it became "The Canyon Rim," and it has continued to be published under this title to this time. It has had good editorship and serves well its purpose to report and promote all phases of Club activity.

Public Information. In the matter of keeping the community informed on the Rotary program, the Canyon Club presents a most unusual record. Clyde W. Warwick, editor and publisher of The Canyon News, a charter member of the Club, its first vice-President, and its third President, has done a job in this area that is probably unparalleled in Rotary International. Not one issue of his paper has appeared in these 26 years without a report of a weekly meeting, except those very few weeks when no meeting was held. He has reported a minimum of 1250 meetings of the Club for a word total in excess of 125,000.

In Conclusion. In this Golden Anniversary year of Rotary International, the Canyon Club, with pride, presents to the home folks its record of "Service Above Self" and pledges itself to perform at an even higher level in the years ahead.

NEW INSECT KILLER

Washington, D. C. — A new insecticide, known as D. D. V. P. (for its chemical name, dimethyl dichloro vinyl phosphate) has been found which is described as more deadly to insects yet less harmful to humans and farm animals than many currently used insecticides. D. D. V. P. was tested in a large dairy barn where there was a high fly population with a known "immunity" to D. D. T. The flies were reduced to nearly zero in less than four hours by eight grams of D. D. V. P., according to officials of the Public Health Service.

West Germany Booming With Many New Houses, Increased Population

(Compiled from overseas reports)

WASHINGTON: Booming West Germany has already built back more homes than were destroyed by the Allies in World War II. Yet there still remains a shortage of living quarters.

This is true partly because of the large number of refugees who have poured into free Germany from the eastern Communist-dominated areas. West Germany's population is over 50,000,000. This makes West Germany a larger country — in population figures — than France, Italy or even England.

Yet West Germany is only a part of the pre-war Germany. The Russians still control East Germany. In that Communist-dominated Germany the population is only about 17,000,000. Thus the democratic countries have almost three-fourths of the German people, in what is now East and West Germany, on their side.

But Germans will tell you there are many Germans, millions, who have been included inside Polish boundaries, which are supposed to mark the dividing line between the new Poland and East Germany. This actually gives the Russians access to several million more Germans, but whether these Germans would ever become pro-Communist is highly doubtful for most of them are patriotic Germans, and look to their eventual inclusion inside Germany again as their number-one goal.

A correspondent for this newspaper writes that he moved into a new apartment in West Germany. It contains three rooms and a bath and kitchen. It is in Frankfurt. It cost him 4,000 marks, just to get it. He pays 100 marks a month rent. Yet he feels happy to have it, and to have gotten it.

Several years ago he paid as much to get one room. Thus while the housing situation is not yet completely satisfactory, one can see that things are improving steadily. This correspondent writes that while the good apartments cost a "lot of money," people in West Germany are determined to regain a "normal living" and thus will pay the price.

They are able to pay the price because of the remarkable economic recovery made since the war. And since they are willing to pay high prices, building has boomed, and the housing situation in West Germany has been eased remarkably in recent years.

PUBLIC WORKS AID

Approximately 300 cities, counties and local public bodies have made inquiries about obtaining Federal funds for planning public works, the Community Facilities Administration reports. The 1954 Housing Act gave the agency $14,500,000 as a starting appropriation, out of a $10,000,000 authorization, to make advances to local agencies for planning water-works, sewers and other non-housing projects.

CONGRESSIONAL PRAYER ROOM

For the first time in 167 years of congressional history, senators and House members have a special, secluded room for quiet meditation and prayer. The meditation room, authorized by Congress last year, is an office, just off the Capitol rotunda — halfway between the House and Senate — about 17 feet square. The idea is to provide a completely private, quiet, restful spot — in the midst of, yet somehow removed from — the tensions and pressures of politics and legislative action.

POULTRY CUT

Commercial hatcheries turned out 20 per cent fewer baby chicks during the last three months of 1954 than a year earlier, and 25 per cent fewer eggs were put in hatchery incubators in January than a year ago. Low prices for chickens and eggs were responsible for a decline in demand for chicks. An Agriculture Department survey indicates that farmers plan to produce four per cent fewer turkeys this year than last — also because of low prices.

MORE MEN PATIENTS

A nationwide hospital survey has revealed that men patients outnumbered women patients by 77,720 late in 1953, or 642,156 men to 504,436 women. This was despite the fact that an average of one-sixth of all persons admitted to hospitals are pregnant women.

1954 CAMPAIGNS

According to reports filed with the Clerk of the House, four Republican national organizations spent about $5,716,184 last year when they were fighting unsuccessfully to keep their thin margins in Congress. That was about 28 per cent more than the indicated spending for national Democratic groups.

"Why," explained Uncle Zeke, "de better he does it de more unpoplar he gits to be."

First National Bank of Amarillo Is Pioneer of Area

The oldest bank in the Panhandle, the First National Bank of Amarillo, has faithfully served this territory for over 60 years and has become one of the widely and favorably known financial institutions of the Southwest.

They serve the public with a complete banking service and have a reputation for being a conservative and reliable institution with all deposits guaranteed by the FDIC up to $10,000. Their capital and surplus is $2,400,000.

Since this bank's inception it has grown and developed as the area itself has prospered. By its adequate banking facilities, it is playing an important part in the growth and development of the Panhandle.

Here you will find every banking facility including farm and ranch loans, business and personal loans, home repair Title I loans, auto loans, Hapalong Cassidy savings clubs for children, savings accounts, safe deposit boxes, trust service, and checking accounts.

They have been the mainstay for many ranchers, businesses and individuals as they are vitally interested in the progress of the agricultural and business life of the area.

All officers and directors are local citizens and are of faultless character and good judgment. Through their efforts and knowledge of banking, this institution has gained a prominent position as a leader in banking circles of the Southwest.

The progress they have made is, in itself, evidence of the confidence this popular bank has in the future of our rich trade area and we are glad to publicly congratulate the First National Bank of Amarillo and V. P. Patterson, president; Chas. A. Fisk, W. D. Smiley, W. N. Durham, Jr., Chas. J. Harris and Gene Edwards, R. M. Green, and Henry Hickman, vice presidents; W. B. Lawrence, cashier; Wyatt Blackburn, Robert E. Rook, Walter Smith, Frank Arnold, James Park, and Troy W. Hudson, assistant cashiers, on their splendid record of service to our people and wish for them continued success in the years ahead.

FORT WORTH: The announcement by the Department of Agriculture that the cattle population had climbed to 95,433,000 head on United States farms and ranches on Jan. 1 was not unexpected at Fort Worth. This is 646,000 more than a year ago.

Livestock men at the market had suspected this was the case as shipments of cows and heifers had declined in the past 90 days at all markets. Fort Worth is at the cross roads between the Eastern third of Texas, a section of the country that has had tremendous gains in cattle population in recent years, and the Western two-thirds of the state, most of which has seen drouth decimate cattle and sheep numbers.

Here are the figures released Monday by USDA officials from Washington: Current cattle population is estimated at 95,433,000; a year ago it was 94,787,000; in 1953 it was 93,637,000. The average 1944-1953 was 82,917,000.

Currently estimates of cows, two-year-old or over for milk are 24,408,000 head; against 24,675,000 a year ago. A decline of 267,000 head and this decline was very evident at Fort Worth because of the heavy numbers of "marginal" or unprofitable milkers that went to market as raw milk prices sagged. In 1953 the dairy herd was 24,094,000; and the 1944-1953 average was 25,135,000 head.

St. Anthony Hospital Amarillo, Gives Area Finest of Service

Recently this reporter visited St. Anthony Hospital which is located in Amarillo in an effort to determine first hand the basis of the widespread reputation of this institution. St. Anthony Hospital of Amarillo with the correct modern equipment for every need made him glad that he lives in an age and in a community where such a modern hospital is possible, a place where the sick are received and returned to health and happiness.

Many Americans fail to consider the importance of adequate hospital facilities. As a rule we seldom realize the importance of such an institution until we ourselves are in immediate need of the services and facilities only there to be found.

Equipment in this model institution is thoroughly modern, and yet in the quest for efficiency the need for attractive home-like comfort has not been overlooked.

Many Panhandle residents who have regained their health there speak well of the facilities and the tender care administered by the Sisters and their competent corps of nurses.

We are therefore pleased in this review of the leaders of Amarillo who serve the many residents of the Panhandle area such as St. Anthony's Hospital. This institution of healing has achieved a position of trust by always adhering to the finest principles and traditions of good hospital practice.

Your Voice Travels Faster Now

Today, your Long Distance calls go through 3 times faster than they did 10 years ago—thanks to new equipment, new methods.

Last year, 33 Long Distance centers in Southwestern Bell territory were added to the "Operator Distance Dialing" network, making a total of 153 such centers now serving you in our five-state area. All cities we serve do not have this new system as yet, but we are adding the necessary equipment as fast as possible. In the next five years, nearly all your Long Distance calls will be dialed by an operator.

Improved Long Distance service is just one way Texas benefited last year by an $80 million telephone construction program. We know that a progressive state must have a growing telephone system. Although our increased investment increases operating expenses because it takes more money to operate a larger telephone system, we're moving ahead in 1955 with plans for greater telephone improvements—and greater benefits for Texas.

To enjoy the full advantages of this new, faster method, it pays more than ever to keep a list and place your calls by number.

Standards

Too many students are making their school work extra-curricular. It seems in this modern era of athletic, music, and various skill contests that we have forgotten the old fashioned criteria of schools, scholarship.

Sixty-eight people or about 20% of the students in our school had a failing average in one solid course. Sixteen people failed two solid courses, and six people failed three solids.

Our school will have less chance of winning in the Interscholastic League contests because 22 people did not pass three solid subjects. These people are not eligible to take part in any of the contests.

Regardless of the way you judge our school, it is none the better for these failing grades. If these students have any school pride, it seems that they should study harder and bring our school up to its usual standard of excellence.

Student of the Week

Martha Quillen was recently a nominee for Band Queen of 1955, and she was attendant to the Band Queen last year. This friendly senior has been a twirler for the past two years, and she was football queen attendant of 1954.

"Marty," as she is called by her friends, is a member of FHA, and she has been Junior Worth Advisor of the Canyon Rainbow in the past. Martha's ambition is to graduate, and her hobby is twirling. She plans to attend college at Texas Tech.

Charles Joyner was the runner-up for the honor of Prince Charming of 1955 recently. He is active in football, basketball, tennis, Science Club, Spanish Club, and Junior Red Cross.

"Nicky," a CHS senior, was a SFC representative his freshman and sophomore years, and vice-president of the junior class last year. His ambition is to be a mechanical engineer, and Charles plans to study engineering at West Texas State his last two years.

Did You Know That

We're back again kids! The basketball season came to a close last February 15. Here are some things about the teams you may not have known.

Did you know that Joe Dickerson, senior guard on the "A" team, was the high score man with over 200 scores? Charles Neblett and George Snapp were runners-up with over 100 scores each.

Charles Joyner and Ellen Johnson were elected basketball king and queen.

You probably never thought of it this way, but almost 16 per cent of our enrollment in the high school played basketball on the boys "A," "B" and "Fish" teams and the girls "A" team. There are 14 members of the girls team, eight boys on the "A" team, 11 boys on the "B" team, and 13 freshmen make up the "Fish" team.

The Eagles won a trophy in the consolation finals in the Dimmitt conference.

Homemakers Move

There was a great deal of hustle and bustle as industrious girls moved into the new home economics department this last week.

Girls donned in aprons were working all over the place. Some were cleaning the new shiny kitchen equipment; some were wiping dishes as they placed them in the living room cabinets; some were conjuring up a batch of delicious doughnuts; and others were vacuuming the rose carpet in the living room.

From the door between the living room and kitchen, the scene was of scattered equipment, and cabinet and closet doors ajar.

In the sewing room, it was comparatively quiet as only stacked sewing boxes waiting to be installed were the only occupants.

National Honor Society Announces New Members From Junior Class

A total of 63 juniors and seniors have been approved by the executive council for membership in the National Honor Society for the 1954-55 term. Thirty-one students from the junior class, and four senior students are enrolled as new members. Twenty-four seniors were re-approved and classed as old members of the NHS.

Before students are eligible for membership in the NHS, they must have maintained an 85 average, must have been a member of CHS for at least one year, and must have no truancy or more than six unexcused tardies recorded on their records. All the names of eligible students were placed on a ballot and each teacher rated each student on the basis of service, leadership, and character, as portrayed in classes, study halls, athletics, class activities, and clubs.

The purpose of NHS is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the developing of character in the pupils of CHS.

Four new senior members are Alice Brotherton, Joe Dickerson, Marie Fort, and Frank Kimbrough.

New members in the junior class include Barbara Bacon, Anna Marie Barker, Charles Brasher, Gwen Carter, Joe Carver, Reva Clay, Charlotte Crain, Dorothy Cranmer, Jon Cross, Jim Flynn, Rosalie Frische, Hubert Green, Florence Hacker, Carol Ann Holman, Marilyn Keller, Virginia Leake.

And Faye Lowery, Ann McKinney, Jacky Matsler, Ralph Miller, Gwen Newberry, Bobby Phillips, Diane Prichard, Wanda Rogers, Nancy Root, Carrie Bell Ruggles.

Members of the executive council are Mrs. Cecil Simms, chairman, T. L. Devin, Waylon Carroll, J. E. Miller, Mrs. Clara B. Long, and Mrs. Nora Gilmore.

Sports Royalty Crowning Slated

Sports royalty to be honored at the athletic banquet February 25 were chosen recently by the football and basketball teams. Elected as Football Queen was Jackie Matsler; Basketball Queen, Ellen Johnson; and Basketball King, Charles Joyner. Attendants to the Football Queen will be Ann Moore and Nedda Coffee.

Jackie Matsler is greatly interested in sports and plays both basketball and volleyball. This junior student holds as her honors membership in National Honor Society, treasurer of sophomore class, and FHA reporter.

Ellen Johnson, a senior, has participated in FHA, NHS, FHA, Student Faculty Congress, Science Club, choir, volleyball, and basketball. Her favorite subjects are English and biology, and after graduation, Ellen plans to enter WT.

Charles Joyner is also a senior who has been active in sports, playing football, basketball, and tennis. Charles is a member of the Science Club, president of the Junior Red Cross, and vice-president of the Spanish Club. He has served as vice-president of his class last year and as a SFC delegate. Following graduation Charles plans to study engineering.

Brotherhood Week Panel Stresses Phrase 'Unity Without Uniformity'

"Unity without uniformity" could very well be the theme of National Brotherhood Week staged throughout the United States for the week of February 13-19, and sponsored by the National Council of Christians and Jews. During that period a special effort was made to create a spirit of living brotherhood among all brethren, regardless of race, religion, or creed.

On Tuesday, the CCYC brought three Amarillo ministers to CHS for the purpose of making brotherhood a reality in the student's life. Dr. Eugene Slater, minister of the Polk Street Methodist Church, Rev. Edmund Hartigan, priest at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, and Rabbi Blum, minister of the B'nai Israel Temple, were speakers for the occasion. Each minister presented a timely talk on the subject of brotherhood, and the part it plays in developing the well-being of mankind.

"Brotherhood is not only a work, but it is also a quality" was brought out in Rabbi Blum's talk. Through the spirit of brotherhood, and the desire to work together and to solve problems jointly, America has become a great nation; and America shines forth as a beacon light to other nations because of her effort to unite all brotherhood regardless of rank.

Prejudice, as defined by Father Hartigan, is an unreasonable attitude toward some situation taken

FTA Members Attend Meeting

The climax for a year's work has at last arrived for ten hard working FTA members who spent the week-end in Denton at the state FTA meeting. The ten members, all girls, were accompanied by Mrs. T. E. Beard and Mrs. Alvin McDonald.

The girls, Virginia Leake, La Verne Riley, Debra McDonald, Barbara Shepard, Virginia Walker, Eva Mae Howard, Helen Hood, Nancy Adeock, Ruth Ann Bolton, and Ellen Johnson, left at 5 a. m. Friday morning to arrive for the first session Friday afternoon. During the day the girls attended various workshops pertaining to various FTA activities, and heard several outstanding speakers in addition to the business sessions. The first night the girls were entertained by a party and dance, and a banquet climaxed the meeting the second night.

The trip to Denton is a reward for the people who work the hardest for the local club. The local chapter helped to pay expenses for the trip by selling School Directories.

Canyon Concludes Cage Calisthenics

Eagle teams retired from the courts last Tuesday, Feb. 14, after the final cage session of the season against Shamrock.

Winning 50 per cent of their District 1-AA games, A squad boys scored 712 points against Eagle opposition which possessed 687 tallies. Canyon boys averaged 59 points per district meet while their opponents chalked up 57 marks a district match.

Members of Coach Lynn Hulsey's A squad are R. A. Burgess, Joe Dickerson, Leroy Burrow, George Snapp, Charles Joyner, David Brandon, Jamie Airhart, and Charles Neblett. High scorers in district games for Canyon were Joe Dickerson with 205, George Snapp with 131, and Charles Neblett with 120. Other squad members placed between nine points and 70 points in district battles.

The A squad girls netted 749 points this season averaging 50 points per game played. Canyon opposition hit 738 points or 49 scores per game against Canyon. In district sessions Canyon girls won four and lost four averaging 45 scores a match or a total of 356 points. Opposing teams held a scorebook record of 42 points per game or 332 points scored against the A squad girls in district contests.

Eagles Stew Irish In District Climax

Canyon lowered the boom on the Shamrock Irishmen, 69 to 38, last Tuesday, February 15, in the closing game of the season for the Eagles.

In a series of spurts Canyon leaped ahead with the quarter scores running 13 to 7, 29 to 19, 53 to 29, and 69 to 38; Canyon taking the higher percentage of the shots.

Canyon threw 54% of Eagle free shots through the net while Irishmen rallied 53% of the free throws granted Shamrock.

High scorer for Canyon was Dickerson with 25 net credits. Dean Foshee, Irishman, rolled 11 points in the hoop for Shamrock.

The Eaglettes blocked the Shamrock girls path to a clean sweep for the double A district championship as they mowed down the four-leaf clover girls, 58 to 53. Shamrock is now tied with Dalhart for the championship.

At the end of the first quarter the Canyon squad held an ice-thin margin of 12 to 11. In the second quarter the girls got together and rolled the score margin ahead 45 to 38 by half time.

This was the Eaglettes' final game of the season.

In girls basketball are Rhea June Ford, Bettie Glanton, Peggy Sheets, Betty Burrus, Alice Brotherton, Gladys Leseberg, Zora Lue Stone, Barbara Bacon, Jearlyn Partridge, Jerry Matsler, Nancy Kay Tomlinson, Betty Jane Brotherton, Marcus Robinson, and Carolyn Glanton.

The Canyon girls teams are coached by Lawrence Brotherton, principal of the Canyon Grade School.

FFA Boys Plan Livestock Exhibit

Twenty-two Canyon FFA boys will be among the exhibitors at the Randall County Junior Livestock Show to be held February 25-26. Three sheep, 11 calves, and 57 swine are being prepared for this exhibit and contest.

Boys planning to exhibit swine are Joe Carver, Walter Cranmer, Jimmy Hales, Roland O'Donald, Gilbert Irlbeck, Ray Mills, Don Ray, Jack Campbell, Jerome Edwards, Richard Irvine, Weldon Tucek, Tommy Davis, Teddy Fowler, Jesse Ogle, Dory Funk, and Dan Podzemy. Jack Metcalf had originally planned to exhibit swine also, but will be unable to because of some uncontrollable circumstances.

Foster Parker, Jack Campbell, Buddy Lowery, and Glenn and Weldon Tucek will show beef steers. Bob Zachery is the only member who is exhibiting a sheep project.

All of these boys have been working diligently with their individual projects each day in order to produce top conditional livestock for the exhibit.

T. L. Devin and Waylon Carroll are chapter advisors who have headed this activity.

Donna Erwin Gets Big Chance When Sings in Chicago

A local girl will make her "big-city" debut this month as vocalist with Ralph Flanagan's band in Chicago.

Donna Erwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Erwin, who live northeast of Canyon, will meet Flanagan on Saturday, Feb. 26, in Kansas City to fly to Chicago, where she will appear with the band.

Miss Erwin was "discovered" by Flanagan when a friend of hers in Houston played a recording of her singing for the bandleader there. He arranged to meet her several days later when he was playing at Fort Hood, Texas. He interviewed her there and auditioned her with the band.

This Chicago booking will permit both Miss Erwin and Flanagan to "try out" the combination of her singing and his orchestra, she explained.

Miss Erwin has appeared on both radio and television in Amarillo as a vocalist with the Weldon Bright Trio. She has been a regular Saturday night performer at the Nat with John Roberts' orchestra.

A 1954 graduate of West Texas State College, Miss Erwin holds a bachelor of music education degree. During her college years, she was elected Miss Student Union, WTSC Sun Princess for the 1953 Sun Carnival in El Paso, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities and one of six WTSC girls named as "personality candidates."

A graduate of Canyon High School, Miss Erwin was a member of Pi Omega sorority at WTSC. Until notified to meet Flanagan, she was employed at Tolzien's Music Store in Amarillo.

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT

St. Louis. — Robbie, a tan cocker spaniel, fell in love with James Morris, postman, the first time he went on the route past the home of Robbie's owners, Mr. and Mrs. George Blammer. The dog trailed Morris all over his route and any other place he went. Finally, the Blammers' locked Robbie up in the back yard, but he put up such a howl every time Morris passed that the Blammers could find only one solution to the problem — they gave Robbie to the postman.

NO HARM MEANT

Seattle, Wash. — Police traced the flight line of a mystery bullet which crashed through a window and lodged in the ceiling of an office on the 31st floor of Seattle's tallest building. They reckoned the bullet came from the county-city building, where the sheriff's office is located. That solved it. A detective had been cleaning his pistol and it fired. However, there's to be no more weapon-cleaning in that office in the future.

At the same time you help yourself, since reports show that every American family is paying a sum equivalent to one-tenth of their food bill—one hundred dollars yearly—for government buying and storing of surplus foods. FLANK BEEF ROAST with rice is easy to prepare and makes an attractive, economical dinner dish. Cook the rice with the roast for added flavor, recommends the Texas Beef Council, and serve with a green vegetable or salad.

A truly old-fashioned man is one who kids his wife by saying if she lost the can-opener, she couldn't keep house.

What he would have us think is either that she's lazy, a poor cook, or throwing his money away. What he actually does is express a viewpoint that's a throw-back to days when opening cans was the shortest route to preparing meals.

Then, the ordinary cooking routine was for the little woman to go out and chase down a chicken, wring its neck, scald it (and her hands), pick it, dress it and cook. To get vegetables, she donned gloves and sunbonnet and went to the garden to gather beans, pick tomatoes, and dig potato hills. Bread, a necessity, had to be home baked. So did pies and cakes.

In those days, table economy came out of Mama's back instead of Papa's billfold. Naturally, it cost a little more to buy things in cans.

Not so any more. The woman who's trying to get around her spouse in the kitchen buys individual chicken pies, frozen and ready to pop into the stove. Ice cream, pies and vegetables are bought the same way. Homemade cakes and ready-to-brown rolls come from bake shops.

If the man of the house would like to go back to the good old days, he might give up his electric razor, a car with automatic gearshift and his television set. Airplanes, central heat, and golfmobiles could go back to the inventors. He could, in short, have a heck of a good time roughing it, too.

So let him kid the little woman about her can-opening technique. She can laugh and laugh — because nowadays that's really work!

Buff's Lost Saturday to Miners---H-S Left

EL PASO, Feb. 19—Substitute Ken Moorhead banged a one-handed push shot from 15 feet with six seconds remaining as Texas Western nipped West Texas State, 78-76, here Saturday night.

With the score deadlocked at 76-76, the home team started stalling with one minute and 42 seconds left. The Miners worked the ball slowly until Moorhead took the aim in the final six seconds.

The loss was costly to Coach Gus Miller's cagers as Texas Tech also lost. The Red Raiders were downed 77-75 by Arizona State at Tempe in overtime.

Tech is still holding first place in the Border Conference race with seven wins and two defeats. West Texas is second with eight triumphs against three losses.

The Buffaloes have only one more game. They meet Hardin-Simmons at Abilene next Friday night.

Tech has three more games: Feb. 28, Hardin-Simmons at Lubbock; March 4, New Mexico A&M at Las Cruces; March 5, Texas Western at El Paso.

The Texas Western-West Texas clash was close all the way but the Miners lead most of the time. West Texas trailed 38-35 at half-time.

James Scott put the losers in front, 72-70, with driving layup with 3:47 left. Then John McClure hit two free shots for a 74-70 edge. But Texas Western made the next six points to go ahead, 76-74. Scott tied it up with a jump shot.

Then Texas Western stalled until the winning shot by Moorhead. Bill Clifton and Scott shared scoring honors for the visitors with 18 each. Ed Haller was high for the Miners with 23.

Formosa Is Key to the Far East Declares Speaker in Lecture Circuit

Formosa is the key to the defense of the Far East, Nora Waln, lecturer and author, said last Monday night in a speech at the WT auditorium. Miss Waln, who has spent many years in China and the Far East, thinks the United States would make a mistake to allow itself "to be finagled out of our present position of defending Formosa."

She said if the United States supports the people of China, it will greatly aid the possibility of an uprising there. She said Chinese Reds have not fulfilled any of their promises to the Chinese people, in particular the farmers and industrial workers.

"The discontent among farmers and industrial workers who were promised the most will probably bring about the downfall of the Red government. I don't know if they can throw off the tyranny, but I personally am helping them and hoping and praying they will be successful," she told her audience.

Miss Waln said the Chinese Reds are not after Formosa in a military sense. They want the island because Formosa's fall would be a tremendous blow to United States prestige in Asia. She said the Reds are already making their first moves into Kashmir and Malaya.

She told her audience there are 53 cities in West China and in Chinese Turkestan in which the world's best machinery, primarily from the United States, is being used to build up the industrial power.

This machinery, she said, is being resold as many as three and four times from the time it leaves the United States until it reaches Red China. And contrary to the belief of many people, there is no shortage of skilled technicians in China, she declared. The Communists are bringing in such people, primarily Czechs, to help in building up a highly technical industry and agriculture.

"China is a rich country and does not need United States financing," she said. "The Chinese need only peace and unity to become a prosperous nation."

Miss Waln said that even today, the United States has a good reputation in China. Consequently, she said, it is necessary for the Reds to continue their constant propaganda program against the U. S.

She said Chiang Kai-shek failed in China because he did not understand his own people. She predicted that future successful governments in China must produce leaders from within the mainland.

Miss Waln also told her audience the United States could have won decisively in Korea, "if we had been free to act on our own." She added that in any future conflict there "we should have the right of decision of what to do if we are to supply men and material."

The speaker was introduced by David Rasco, managing editor of the Amarillo Daily News. She spoke on personal experiences in China and afterward conducted a question and answer session with the audience.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Readers ask, "Just how real is international conspiracy threat? Is situation over-magnified?"

Unfortunately, situation is extremely critical.

Kremlin is considered headquarters of international conspiracy against U.S.; however, Kremlin is but headquarters of known enemy.

Equally dangerous is unseen enemy headquartered in all world's capitols including Washington. Like communist ambition, this conspiracy aims at destruction of U.S.

Over 20 years ago Douglas MacArthur stated U.S. is a vast storehouse any nation would like to plunder. Many feel it tragic talents of this outstanding patriot-realist are now unused.

As previously reported, nationwide membership of National Federation of Independent Business recently voted 3 to 1 favoring law requiring all treaties and foreign agreements be approved by both Senate and House.

This sentiment even exceeds that incorporated in Bricker Amendment before Congress again. Last year, despite fact 65 Senators co-sponsored Bricker Amendment, it was defeated by White House pressure via underground strategy of parliamentary procedure.

Few people realize Article VI of U.S. Constitution provides any treaty becomes law of the land, superseding even state or local law.

In April, 1952 John Foster Dulles warned, "Congressional laws are invalid if they do not conform to the Constitution, whereas treaty law can override the Constitution. Treaties, for example, can take powers away from Congress and give them to the President; they can take powers from the States and give them to the Federal government; or to some international body; and they can cut across the rights given the people by the Constitutional Bill of Rights."

Since then Dulles became Secretary of State and has failed to further sound tocsin.

It is also significant courts have held that agreements such as Yalta and Potsdam have full effect of treaties, even though not ratified by Senate.

Yet in March of last year United Nations Human Rights Convention voted not to recognize as a fundamental human right the right to own property. Various divisions of UN, such as International Labor Organization have drafted some 200 treaties which would rob U.S. citizens of freedom of speech, press, education, of private enterprise, other Constitutional guarantees.

Thus socialistic schemers parading under banners of World Federalist, Atlantic Unionists, One Worlders, other titles, pose threat more insidious to U.S. than Kremlin, whose intentions are known. This other group of international conspirators can win without firing a shot.

This explains forthcoming Congressional battle to pass Bricker amendment or legislation along lines voted by nation's independent businessmen. The objective will be to insure that never again can a small group in the executive branch of government sign away nation's hard won freedoms. The outcome of this battle will be every bit as decisive as was the battle of Yorktown.

FORCED TO TAKE AID

Columbus, Ohio. — Harrison county, struggling for four years to stay free of Federal aid, has finally lost its fight. The Supreme Court of Ohio ruled recently that the county must participate in a Federal aid program for Ohio's totally permanently disabled. Harrison county's flat refusal of the money threatened to cost Ohio $3,000,000 a year in U. S. aid unless all 88 counties joined in the program.

ANDY SEZ:

Don't tell anybody but—the McCarter's got the first new 1955 Frigidaire refrigerator—the one that Arthur Godfrey showed off with that new Flowing Cold, the new picture-window Hydrator on the door, and the freezer at the bottom! Have you ever gone out to buy something knowing just what you wanted and found something you really liked? Mr. and Mrs. McCarter were a-lookin' for a new refrigerator, but when Mrs. McCarter saw that new Frigidaire (it was still in the crate) that was "It."

Wonder if Mrs. Hunsley is still cogitatin'? Now there's a little gal that's an atom bomb—she just generates.

Last Friday was such a beautiful day so we had our door open, and such was the setting for meeting two very nice people, Mrs. Humphries (with a silent H) and Mr. Skypala from out near Umbarger — Mr. Skypala remarking about the times he had seen the door locked in days past and Mrs. Humphries was a-lookin' at the double doors on that beautiful 15 cu. ft. Frigidaire refrigerator. It certainly is wonderful to have a refrigerator that size that can actually be put in only a 39 inch space and operates on a 7/32 h.p. Meter Miser unit.

Which always brings to mind Mrs. Warwick when she got her new 15 cu. ft. Frigidaire—the only thing wrong with it, she said, was that she still didn't have enough room—and believe you me she had every square inch utilized.

Latest Rumors From Political Front of Nation

President Eisenhower's tendency to let minor aides speak in the name of the White House is starting to cause confusion in some Government agencies and in Congress. One important official described the practice as "dangerous," particularly where Government concessions are involved.

Sam Rayburn, House Speaker, warned the President that his reciprocal-trade program would be in danger unless the White House showed more willingness to consider special foreign-trade problems of some sections of the country. Mr. Eisenhower, it appears, will find it necessary to do business with the Democratic majority in Congress if he wishes to get favorable action on things he wants.

The $100-a-plate dinner honoring Speaker Rayburn is regarded by younger Democratic hopefuls as a good starting point for a "stop Stevenson" movement. Adlai Stevenson is far from assured of a renomination by the Democrats in 1956.

Senator Estes Kefauver, of Tennessee, who proved the best Democratic vote-getter in 1952 presidential primaries, is getting all set for 1956. Those who worked for the Senator last time are not being discouraged in making an early start.

Leonard Hall, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, now has much more power than he formerly had over White House patronage decisions, involving high office as well as run-of-mine federal jobs.

Ezra Benson, Secretary of Agriculture, is reported to feel that there still are too many Democrats in policy-making positions within his Department. Mr. Benson is pictured as planning more personnel changes.

A White House official says that all White House contacts except one have been pretty much closed to Senator McCarthy, even though he is a Republican. This official says it is too bad that hotheads insisted upon generating a fight between the President and the Wisconsin Senator, and that this could have been avoided.

Leaders of Democrats in Congress regard studies of the commission headed by Herbert Hoover and aimed at Government reorganization as an attempt to open up jobs for Republicans. Action based on the Hoover Commission studies is likely to be very cautious.

Diplomats at the Soviet Embassy in Washington, who seemed relaxed and appeared to be enjoying themselves a few weeks ago, are back on a more reserved course once again. The experiment in social "coexistence" turned out to be short-lived.

Sir Winston Churchill, Britain's Prime Minister, blames the Socialist regime that preceded him for mistakes in defense planning that now show up in failure of military-aircraft programs and in a serious decline of the British Navy. The Socialists got things quite tangled up.

Loneliness Caused Man To Seek Friendship of Others

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

EVANSTON, Ill.: A great adventure in friendship grew out of the loneliness of a man who had few close friends.

The man was Paul Harris. He founded a fellowship that now flourishes around the world. It is known as Rotary International.

Harris was 36, a lawyer and a bachelor when a plan for organized camaraderie began to revolve in his mind 50 years ago.

He was a small-town fellow, in a big city. Born in Racine, Wis., and reared in Wallingford, Vt., he went to the University of Iowa Law School, roamed through the United States and Europe for five years, then settled in Chicago.

He had business friends but they were not social friends. He wondered why they couldn't be both and discussed the problem with three clients who also were comparative strangers in Chicago.

On the night of Feb. 23, 1905, the four men met in the small office of Gustavus Loehr, a mining engineer, in the Unity Building on Chicago's Loop. The others were Silvester Schiele, a coal merchant, and Hiram Shorey, a tailor.

Harris, a tall, spare, intense man outlined his ideas for a club this way: If businessmen could get together periodically, they could become better acquainted and, perhaps, help each other obtain more business.

There would be a member for each type of business or profession to ensure a broad range of friendship.

It would be called the Rotary Club because the meetings would be held, in rotation, in the business places of the members.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Davis were host to their Dinner Bridge Club Saturday, February 12.

Fried chicken, baked beans, potato salad, hot rolls, datenut loaf and apple pie were served followed by an evening of bridge.

High prize went to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thompson and low to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Roach.

Those present were Herb and Mayno Byars, Bill and Betty Roach, Jack and June Thompson, members, all of Lubbock, Clarence and Sarah Thompson, Lee Roy and Mattie Moreland, special guests, and the host and hostess.

Dowd of Canyon; three nieces, Viola Ballard, Mrs. Margaret Ballard, and Mrs. Pauline Gytis of Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. Buck Yarbrough of Wyoming. Mr. Yarbrough is an uncle of Mable and Jonnie.

High Schools to Send Journalists For Annual Meet

High school journalists from about 30 towns of the area will meet at West Texas State College March 26 for the 21st annual Panhandle High School Press Association convention.

Date for the convention was set by the association's executive committee and sponsors from the schools represented. David Miller, Canyon, is president; Mike Price, Pampa, is vice-president; and Celia Spivey, Dalhart, is secretary.

Contests will again be conducted in several fields of news writing, in newspapers, and annuals. Deadline for contest material will be Feb. 26. A program for the day's convention is being planned.

The executive committee decided at a recent meeting to extend the convention only until the annual luncheon, adjourning shortly after new officers and winners in the contests are announced.

A number of newspapers in the Panhandle this year are sponsoring trophies awarded to first place contest winners. Among these are the Tulsa Herald, Borger News-Herald, Ochiltree County Herald, Pampa Daily Spokesman, and the Amarillo Globe-News.

He Never Reads the Ads!

WHY SHOULD HE?

He can't afford to own a television set . . . an automobile . . . or any of the other wonderful products that make life pleasant. Evidently he's one of the few people who don't want them enough to work for them. So he doesn't take the risk of reading advertising. The logic of advertising's value isn't hard to understand. Mass production does two things: it creates useful products at popular prices and provides high wages so people can afford to buy them. Advertising helps sell the products to people—and that keeps the production lines and the jobs going. Advertising has long since proved that it is the fastest and lowest cost way of carrying the news of products to millions of people overnight, stimulating the desire to buy, supplying the factories with orders. Our lazy friend's income, as well as yours, depends directly or indirectly upon the ability of advertising to move products from assembly lines to users, because consumer desire means consumer demand and that's what keeps America prosperous.

State Capitol NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN: Veterans land sale scandals overshadowed lawmaking in both branches of the Legislature for another week.

Investigations spread still wider. Involved were three departments of the state, both chambers of the Legislature, grand juries of Travis, Bexar and DeWitt counties, and probably others.

More of the approximately 80 "block deals" were brought before investigators.

Mike Rowan, a former executive secretary of the Veterans Land Board, testified that several legislators had exerted "unusual influence" to push veterans' applications through.

He named Senators Doyle Willis of Fort Worth and Warren McDonald of Tyler and Representative Douglas Bergman of Dallas. Rowan said it was "unfair" but he couldn't remember names of the others.

Dennis Wallace, longtime chief clerk of the Land Office, reported that his name had been "signed" by someone else, to minutes of the Veterans' Land Board.

So far Atty. Gen. Shepperd has filed nine suits for forfeiture of block sales and recovery of a total of $1,539,505 to the state.

Tax Slow Down
With land sales taking legislative precedence, taxes, the Legislature's big problem, have taken a back seat.

Rep. Jerry Sadler sharply reminded the House revenue and taxation committee that the session was one-third over and no revenue bills had been reviewed or acted upon. He demanded an "immediate" hearing on his bill for a $3.30 per barrel hike on beer tax.

Rep. Charles J. Kirkham of Cleburne offered a new tax plan — a "road use" tax, as a substitute for the administration's two-cent gasoline tax hike proposal. So far the gas tax hasn't been heard by committee.

Kirkham's plan would levy a $5 fee on commercial motor vehicles, plus a graduated tax scale based on gross weight, ranging from six mills to 22 mills, all estimated revenue to go to highway purposes.

Insurance Clean-up
Final passage of the first major bill to "clean up the insurance mess" was voted by the House. Control of the stock and securities of insurance companies, under the bill, will go to the Board of Insurance Commissioners.

This bill is in for a fight in the Senate where a counter measure would give insurance stock supervision to the securities division of the Secretary of State's office.

The Senate bill has been heard and parked in sub-committee.

Water Bills, Too
Favorable report has been given by a Senate committee to the administration's $100 million state bond issue plan for aid to water districts. Rival measures for the same amount of bonds have been put in House sub-committee.

Passed by the Senate were two of the water bills, regulating pollution from oil wells, and requiring reports to the state by water districts.

Advertising and Newspapers
Representative Vernon E. Smith of Ft. Worth introduced a bill specifically prohibiting the Board of Examiners in Optometry from making any regulations restricting optometrists' advertising.

Attorney General Shepperd had previously ruled void, such an order made by the board but rescinded.

Rep. E. "Kika" de la Garza of Mission introduced a bill to prohibit any court, grand jury or legislative committee from attempting to compel a newspaper or press service employee from revealing the source of his information.

Rudder Honored
Newly appointed Land Commissioner J. Earl Rudder received honors this week. He has been promoted from colonel to brigadier general in the U. S. Army Reserves.

He also received appointment to a commission to revisit the Normandy Invasion Beachhead, where he made part of his outstanding military record in the Invasion.

Red Ink
"In the red" for the first time in 13 years is the State Treasury's general revenue fund. Treasurer Jesse James announced that banks have agreed to cash warrants without discount.

Treasury calls were set for the 5th and 20th of each month, and James said the time lag would not exceed 20 days. The general fund is to get back on a cash basis around May 1.

Auto Dealers' Fight
Authorized car dealers won the first round of a bitter fight with the "independents" or used car dealers. A Senate committee voted a favorable report on Sen. Gus Strauss' bill to license all dealers. The bill also would prohibit sale of new cars by dealers not having agreements with manufacturers or distributors.

Sidelights
Expunged from Senate records was a resolution by Sen. Kilmer Corbin calling for the retirement of Maurice Acres, chief executive aide to Gov. Allan Shivers. Only Corbin voted for it. . . Rep. J. O. Gillham's bill to double college fees was parked in sub-committee, after much discussion in which a large representation of students from the University of Texas took part. . . Sen. George Parkhouse's labor bill, to prohibit payment of unemployment benefits to workers in an integrated industry was favorably reported by the Senate state affairs committee. The bill is based principally on a case in which Texas Ford Motor Co. employees were idled because of a strike in the East. . . Offices of the federal district attorney for West Texas are being moved from Austin to San Antonio. San Antonio Russell Wine has succeeded Charles F. Herring of Austin as US district attorney.

Wise Mothers Abandon Their Pre-Baby Work Schedule

BY EDNA MILES

BRINGING a new baby home from the hospital means that your former household schedule goes out the window and that for about six weeks you devote about 18 hours of your working day to the baby.

Cutting corners and thus saving time will mean that you'll have time for much-needed rest. This means you can't have a shining house or elaborate meals. You may have to let dust collect while you wield a can opener.

Women who feel that they can use time when the baby's sleeping for housecleaning are only exhausting themselves. When the baby naps, take time out for a nap, too. You may not be able to show a clean house when your husband comes home, but you'll be a more relaxed, pleasant companion.

Don't feel that you shouldn't put baby pants on a small baby for fear of skin rash. You'll save yourself time and trouble by equipping him with several pairs of new waterproof, machine-washable rayon fabric pants. This means you've one less job to do by hand and that you've also relieved yourself of the task of changing (and washing) the baby's bedclothes three or four times a day.

These new baby pants can go into the machine with other laundry and then be hung up to dry. With a half dozen pairs, you can save yourself both time and work.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Students of American government often debate whether or not Congressional rules contradict democratic principles.

Legislation desired by majority of Congress can be bottled up in committee and never have opportunity of reaching final verdict on the floor.

In Congressional last session Senate resolution to give standing committee status to Senate Small Business Committee got "freezer treatment" even though 50 senators had already expressed themselves in favor in writing.

All through session, resolution was kept from a vote by Senator Jenner's rules committee.

Resolution has again been introduced by Sen. Edward Thyne (Rep. Minn.) co-sponsored by 53 Senators.

Explaining difference between the present status of Senate Small Business Committee and status as a standing committee is involved due to technical rules.

But here is situation.

Several years ago nation's independent businessmen took stand their interests had no effective representation in Congress. Concerted work of these businessmen through National Federation of Independent Business resulted in Senate Small Business Committee.

This committee in performing outstanding work, encroached upon prerogatives which huge corporate interests had regarded as their private bailiwick.

Thus, when majority of members of Senate decided it was time to give greater stature to Senate Small Business Committee, these interests used pressure to keep resolution in committee.

Now resolution is before this session, backed by these 54 Senators.

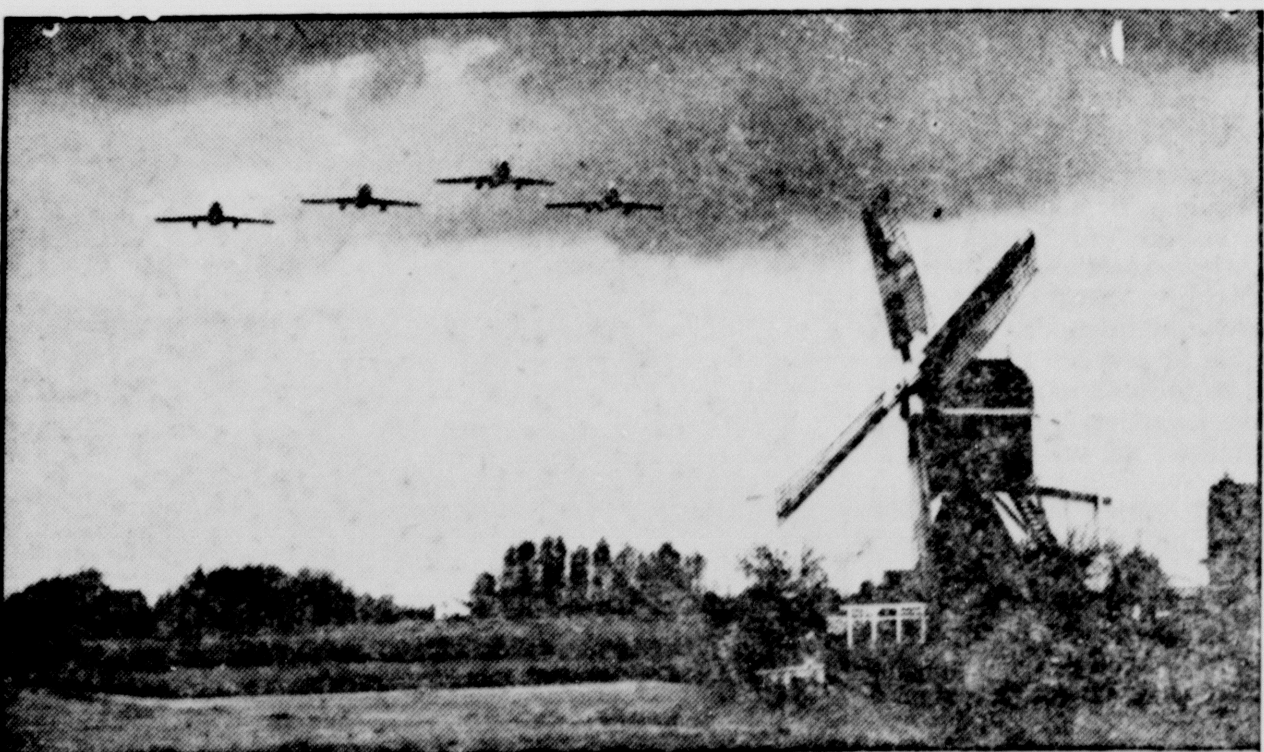

Senators: Edward Thyne, John Sparkman, Gordon Allott, Frank Barrett, J. Beall, George Bender, Francis Case, Dennis Chavez, Norris Cotton, Price Daniel, James Duff, Henry Dworshak, Sam Ervin, Walter George, Barry Goldwater, Theodore Green, Thomas Hennings, Lister Hill, Hubert Humphrey, Irving Ives, Henry Jackson, Olin Johnston, Estes Kefauver, John Kennedy, Robert Kerr, Thomas Kuchel, William Langer, Herbert Lehman, Russell Long, Warren Magnuson, George Malone, Mike Mansfield, Edward Martin, Thomas Martin, John McClellan, Patrick McNamara, Karl Mundt, John Pastore, Frederick Payne, Leverett Saltonstall, Andrew Schoepfel, W. Kerr Scott, Margaret Chase Smith, Stuart Symington, Arthur Watkins, Herman Welker, Alexander Wiley, Milton Young, William Purtell, James Murray, Earle Clements, Paul Douglas, Wayne Morse and George Smathers.

It is interesting to note neither party leader is listed. Thus, backing for resolution can be considered a Senatorial "grass roots" move. Thus action on measure will not only be closely watched by small businessmen throughout nation, but also by students of American government.

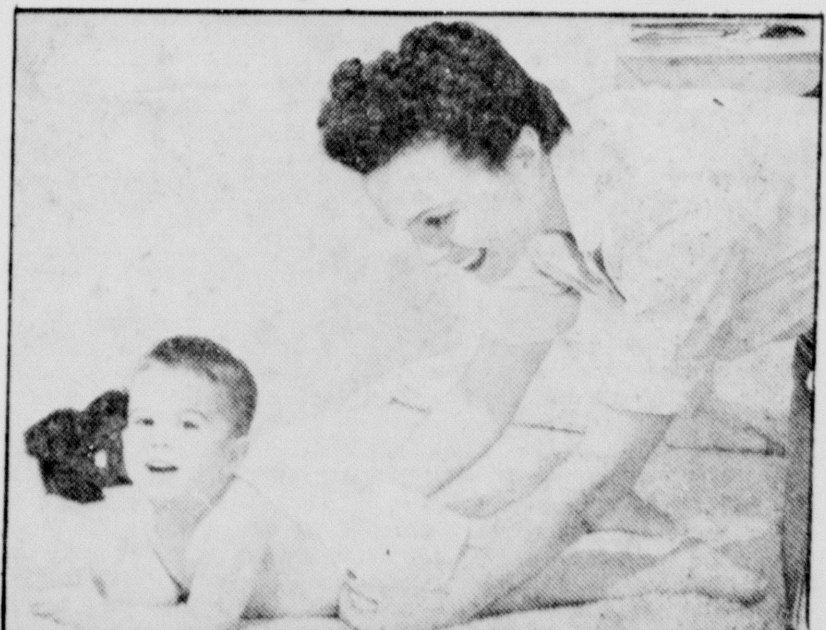

Senate authorities claim seldom has any bill or resolution ever had such an extensive backing of co-sponsors. Therefore, outcome of this issue could be taken as valid indicator on how much simon pure democracy exists in United States Senate.

Texas Viewpoint

In Washington

By PRICE DANIEL
U. S. Senator

During the past week the Texas State Society had one of the outstanding social events of the year — an old-fashioned chili supper. Held at the National Press Club, it was well attended by most of the Texans in Washington.

The Mexican dishes were furnished by Fred Catterall of Austin. As you can imagine, Mexican food is one of the favorites of Texans here, and there are not many places where it is prepared to the style and taste of the Mexican restaurants at home.

Texas State Society

The Texas State Society has 902 members. Anyone who has been a resident of Texas but who now works or resides in Washington is eligible for membership. It is the largest State society in Washington and the only one in which President and Mrs. Eisenhower have membership and have actually attended.

Robert B. Anderson

Each week this column will refer to one of the many outstanding Texans serving in Washington. This week we compliment the job being done by Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert B. Anderson of Vernon.

Bob Anderson was appointed in 1953 as Secretary of the Navy. In that position and in his present assignment he has made a great impression upon Washington officialdom, especially upon the President himself. President Eisenhower rates Anderson as one of the top men in his administration. We have heard the President say that Anderson has the ability to serve well in any office in the land, including that of the Presidency itself. On the Democratic side, we have heard Speaker Sam Rayburn pay similar tribute to Anderson. Do not be surprised if the name of Bob Anderson should become prominent in speculation about a successor to President Eisenhower.

Wool Growers Meet

R. W. Hodge of Del Rio, president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, and former State Senator Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo, attended two meetings here this past week in behalf of wool growers.

Joining other representatives of wool growers from other States, at one meeting they urged that the Defense Department use the present wool stockpile for manufacture of uniforms and blankets. At the other they appeared at a Department of Agriculture hearing on assignment of wool incentive payments.

Cotton Allotments

The Agriculture Committee in the House of Representatives has reported a bill to help alleviate the cotton acreage allotment situation. It provides for a 3% increase in cotton allotments to be used in each State, first to assist the smaller farmers by bringing them up to 5 acres, and then in hardship cases where the allotments were reduced by more than 40% of the 1954 acreage. This will mean, if passed in its present form, an additional 228,000 acres in Texas. The Senate Committee should act soon on several bills having a similar purpose, including our own bill on this subject.

Fight Against Communists

Ridding the country of Communists, fellow travelers and other subversives who would destroy our system of government is a problem which has occupied the time of many people in Washington.

In Congress last year, we co-authored a bill which for the first time outlawed the Communist Party. This year we introduced a resolution which made sure that the investigations of Communism and subversion would continue with vigor and diligence, including full disclosure of all facts about the Communist dentist, Peress, who was promoted and honorably discharged by the Army. This passed the Senate by a vote of 84 to 0.

This year, too, we were assigned to the Internal Security Committee, which has the job of investigating the subversive influences in our country. The final paragraph of this week's column is being written in the Internal Security Committee room where we are hearing evidence on the case of the confessed Communist, Harvey M. Matusow who, after testifying against other Communists, has now said he was lying in his testimony. It happens that this man testified twice in Texas—once in El Paso, in a case against a Communist union leader, and once in Austin, during an investigation of unions by the Texas Industrial Commission. We fully intend to find out who is responsible for his change in testimony and his attempt now to embarrass those who have been fighting Communism in this country. More about this later.

Alvin M. Bentley, Member of Congress, from Michigan: "It is a well-known fact that women lose their earning ability on the average at least five years earlier than men."

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

The Gas Question

Much has been said and written about the gas question since the Supreme Court held in effect that you could produce and gather all the natural gas you wanted, but if you sold it to a company engaged in transmission of gas from one state to another subject to regulation by the Federal Power Commission under the Natural Gas Act, then you, by virtue of the sale, subjected yourself to federal jurisdiction and regulation of rates by the Federal Power Commission. This holding was another good example of the language construction strain that has been going on lately to centralize this government.

The decision was a five-to-three decision. The three who voted against the decision were Justice Douglas, Justice Clark and Justice Burton. The latest addition to the Supreme Court, the Chief Justice from California, Mr. Warren, voted for the decision and therefore for federal control of all these small companies engaged in the production and gathering of natural gas.

When this decision was announced, I immediately introduced legislation to correct the grievous wrongs that would follow from it. However, it was so late in the session last year that there was little chance to get anything done.

Soon after this session began, I introduced legislation to correct this situation and to preserve in the States those rights guaranteed them under the Constitution and to preserve the status of the individual within the state. I shall press for passage of this legislation, because it involves a fundamental principle, not concerned primarily with the gas business nor any other single type of endeavor, but concerned with every segment of the economy of this nation.

We have reached the crossroads and must decide whether or not we are ready to move into centralized government centered in Washington and thereby change the type of government, if not the name thereof, which we inherited from the founding fathers of this nation. I sincerely hope that we can count on a united front of those who love America and constitutional government.

There are certain elements in this country who pay lip service to free enterprise, to constitutional government, and to the integrity of the individual, but whose greed prompts them to refuse to support or to contest any proposed legislation unless they can gain some selfish concession. Let us hope that it will not be necessary to come to grips with such a policy in our attempt to correct an invasion of individual rights.

Water Important to Panhandle

We have been holding hearings recently on the progress that has been made in the projects designed to bring about the removal of salt from sea water. As I pointed out last year, this program has not yet developed a method that is economically feasible, but work continues and we hope and pray for success.

Four scientists appeared before the committee and gave a most interesting discussion on the several methods being pursued. Dr. Hickman briefly, concisely and clearly stated the object of the program when he said that what man was trying to do was to construct a giant kidney. He pointed out that the function of the kidney of the human body is to separate the salt from the fluid.

Nature has a method of lifting water from the sea, desalting it, and placing it on earth in the form of rain or snow. When man learns to do this with the degree of efficiency that will make it economically sound, it could well be the answer to wars and the be-

With the passage of the Upper Colorado River Storage bill, one of the finest recreation areas in America will be within a few years of actuality.

This, the Yampa-Lodore Recreation area in Dinosaur National Monument, will provide the first look at some of America's finest and most spectacular canyons for thousands of tourists, 20 miles upstream from the dinosaur beds from which the entire monument gets its name.

The Colorado River and its major tributaries, the Green, Yampa, Gunnison, Dolores and San Juan rivers, are the great canyon-makers of the West; on their way to the Gulf of California from the snow-capped Rockies, these rivers carve literally thousands of spectacular canyons across the high plateaus of Colorado, Utah, New Mexico and Arizona.

The most famous of these canyons is the Grand Canyon of the Colorado in Arizona, one of the major wonders of the world.

Yet there are other canyons, not quite so spectacular as Grand Canyon, which are of awe-inspiring beauty. The deep canyons of the Green and Yampa Rivers are among the most spectacular.

Yet because they are located in the remote fastnesses of the tri-corner area of Colorado, Utah and Wyoming, almost inaccessible except by horseback, these canyons have been seen only by a handful of people compared with the thousands who visit other scenic wonders of the West.

At the time the original 80-acre site of the dinosaur relics was expanded to more than 200,000 acres, it was understood that some of the best sites for power and water storage reservoirs were included in the monument.

So when President Roosevelt in 1938 issued the proclamation expanding the monument, he included a statement exempting the enlarged area from the provisions of law which prohibit the building of dams or reservoirs in national monuments.

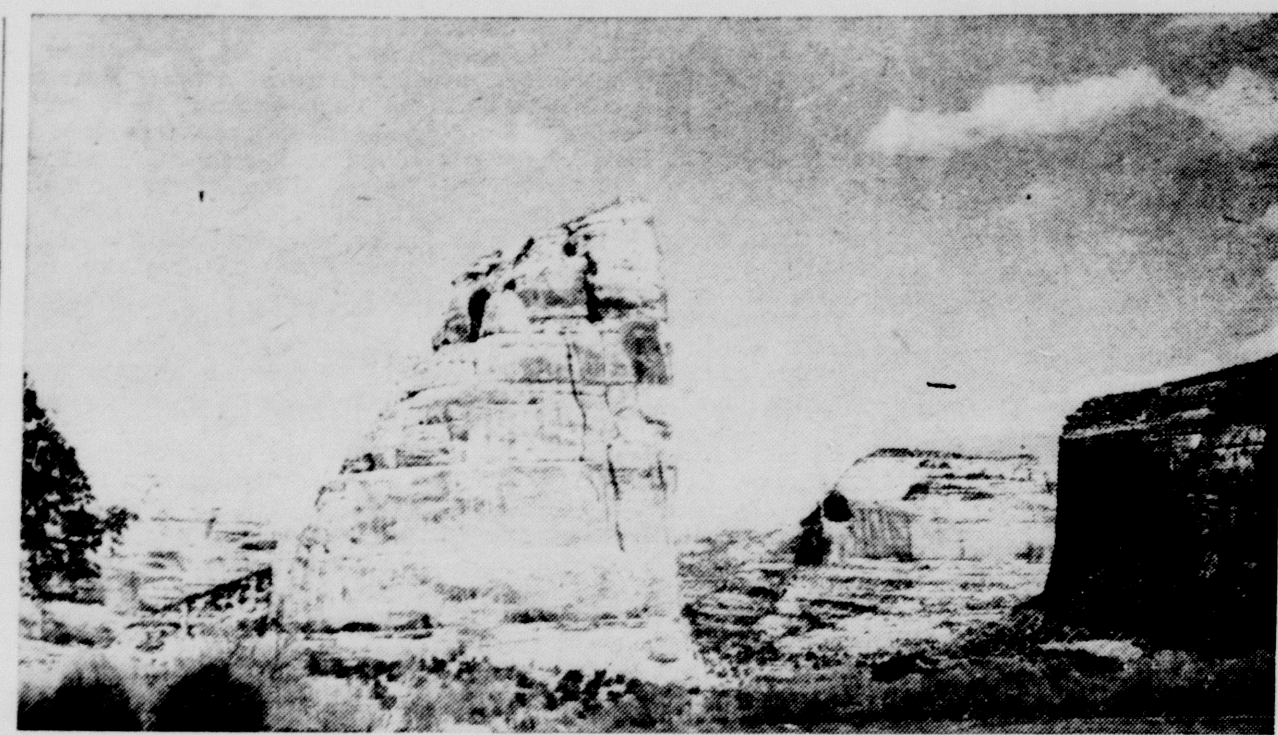

Plans Developed

Plans developed over nearly 50 years by the Bureau of Reclamation and included in the Upper Colorado River Storage project, call for a stream regulation and power-producing dam at Pat Lynch Hole, now called Echo Park, 20 miles up the Green River from the original Dinosaur Monument.

Here a 525-foot concrete dam is planned at the bottom of the 2,500-foot deep canyon at Harper's Corner. The dam will back water up in fiord-like lakes for more than 60 miles up the precipitous canyons of the Green River, and more than 40 miles up the deep canyons of the Yampa River.

During the past 20 years, only a few hundred people have made the dangerous (though exciting) trip down the rapids of the Green and Yampa Rivers. The lakes, deep in the bottoms of these canyons, will eliminate most of the dangerous rapids.

In their place will be many placid pools, excellent for fishing. Tourists, heretofore barred from the area by the dangerous river passage and the rugged terrain of the surrounding mountains, will have a chance to see the beauty of these canyons in safety from the more quiet lakes, in some cases more than 2,000 feet below the rim of the canyon walls.

BEAUTY SPOT—Steamboat Rock, one of the most striking features of the expanded Dinosaur National Monument in Utah and Colorado, has been viewed by relatively few people. With the construction of Echo Park Dam, this and many other scenic beauties will be open to tourists in safety and with relative ease.

But to the people of the states of Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming, the important thing about the Echo Park Dam and its beautiful reservoir is not the scenic enchantment which visitors will be able to see for the first time; the important thing is that the reservoir will permit them to use a portion of the water allotted to the Upper Basin states in the Colorado River Compact of 1922.

Water for Irrigation

These dams and other smaller projects will bring new irrigation water to nearly half a million acres in the four states, and will provide water for the growing cities of Denver, Salt Lake City, Albuquerque and the atom city of Los Alamos.

Altogether, six major dams and 17 smaller projects are planned. The money advanced for the dams which will mean so much to the people of these four states will all be paid back, much of it with interest, within a 50-year period. The dams will provide a new source of power, much needed in the expanding Mountain Empire, and will permit the development of rest of the United States.

The people of the Upper Colorado source of power, much needed in the expanding Mountain Empire, and will permit the development of rest of the United States.

Statehood Alaska, Hawaii

Alaska and Hawaii have been given permission by the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs to form the 49th and 50th states of the United States. The proceeding was somewhat amusing and at times confusing.

The Secretary of Interior appeared before the committee on behalf of statehood for Hawaii, but not for Alaska. His testimony resulted in his making out about the same case for both territories.

Secretary of Defense Wilson wrote a letter for Hawaii and opposing Alaska. However, his reasoning was completely faulty because the reasons he gave for being against Alaska were more applicable against Hawaii. The whole transaction smelled a little political.

An amendment was offered cutting off a tremendous Alaska into a proposed special military reservation, but the amendment was defeated.

Immediately thereafter, word went up and down the halls that the gentleman at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, to-wit, Mr. Eisenhower, would veto the bill unless the military reservation amendment was passed applicable to Alaska but not to Hawaii. This caused the statehood advocates to do a lot of scurrying because both territories are in one bill. The result was that a new amendment was prepared to satisfy the President and was made a part of the bill.

My observation concerning this whole proceeding was that if the bill is finally passed and becomes law, it will be the longest step in our generation toward the complete centralization of government and could well be the beginning of the disintegration of the United States of America as such. Frankly, I do not believe that statehood will be granted to either territory this session.

Reciprocal Trade Argument

One aspect of the Reciprocal Trade Amendment is the effect imports of manufactured articles will have on like articles produced in this country.

The argument has been that it would destroy the standard of living of many of the workers in this country.

An amusing thing happened the other day. One of the members received a telegram from one of his constituents asking the member to please oppose the Reciprocal Trade Extension desired by Mr. Eisenhower. The telegram ended in these words: "Permitting these imports to come into this country might upset my standard of living." The Member felt sure that the telegraph company must have had a bad speller.

New Teamed Fabrics Offer Sheer Delight and Durability

BY EDNA MILES

IF you like the sheerness of glass curtains at your windows, but prefer the color provided by a pattern, until now you've had to compromise in your decorating.

You took either one or the other; sacrificed either the light and sunshine that sheer curtains afford or the color provided for a whole area by patterned drapes. But now, there's a matching print available in a sheer and heavier fabric and in wonderful color combinations, too. These include turquoise in two shades, lavender and pink, blue and turquoise, mustard and yellow; all on white backgrounds.

The pattern, called "Birdsong," comes in both a 100 per cent fortisan nixon curtaining and a new spun rayon and cotton antique twill that can be quilted for a bedspread.

You might want to use the heavier fabric to slipcover a chair or two in the same room. You might also want to pick up one of the colors in the print and repeat it in a solid color elsewhere in the room.

If you are your own decorator, watch for bargains in second-hand bed-heads. The wrought-iron bed-head, in either black or white, is an interesting idea for bedroom decor.

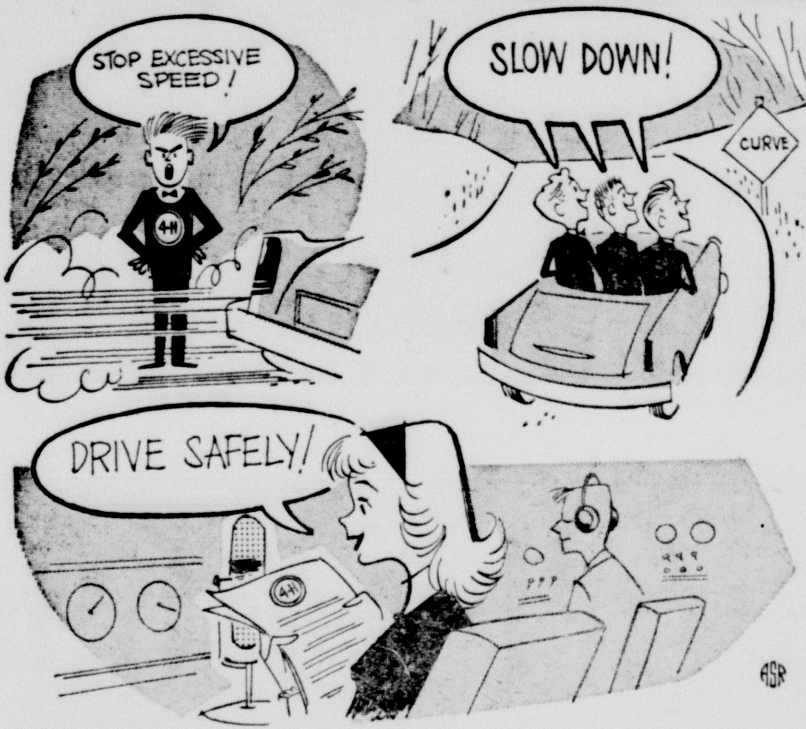

Teamed patterns in sheer curtains and durable spread material are ideal for bedroom decor. Bed-head of wrought iron is a second-hand store find.

THAT BOAT RIDE WAS ONLY THE BEGINNING—George Washington's historic crossing of the Delaware on Christmas Night of 1776 is brought to mind annually with the printed reproduction of Emanuel Leutze's famous painting of the event. However, in an equally enduring if less picturesque way, Washington is remembered every day in the year by one select group of citizens. From Maine to California, and from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico, members of the U. S. Mail service are reminded of the "Father of His Country" as they handle mail for or through 30 cities, towns and exchange points named "Washington," shown by dots on picture chart above. 4-H Youths Drive For Safety

A few teen-agers may be a menace on the highways—but almost half a million others are working daily to protect your life on the road. That's what newsmen learned when they interviewed winners in the 1954 National 4-H Safety Program recently at the 33rd National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

Eight national winners received $200 college scholarships from General Motors, Safety Program awards donor. GM also provided all-expense trips to the Club Congress for national and state winners.

"Sure, some teen-agers are reckless drivers," said Jim Messerschmitt, 19, Elizabeth, Colorado, a national winner. "That's all the more reason why a lot of us feel teen-agers must take the lead in fighting for safer roads and safer driving."

At last count, more than 486,000 youngsters took part in the Safety Program. That compares with 78,000 just before GM became awards donor 10 years ago.

Although the program is concerned with farm and home as well as highway safety, participants are giving more and more emphasis to saving lives and property on the road.

Young Messerschmitt, for example, helped plan the first Teen-Age Traffic Association in the nation and in 1954 attended the White House Conference on Highway Safety.

Thousands of other young crusaders for road safety have organized safe driving clubs, given radio talks on highway hazards, placed safety posters in store windows and encouraged public officials to erect warning signs at highway danger spots.

Some youngsters, like Sara Ellen Phillips, 17, Midville, Ga., had their interest in traffic safety spurred by accidents that struck close to home. Sara Ellen began the work that led to a national 4-H award after three of her school mates were killed in a highway accident.

Contributions to highway safety also helped win national awards for Peggy Pfefferkorn, 18, West Friendship, Md.; Norlene Lawson, 19, Kenyon, Minn.; Jack Martin, 20, Gardnerville, Nev.; Ella Blossom, 18, Hoffman, N. C.; Ralph Ray Swinford, Jr., 17, Wichita Falls, Texas; and Florene Richardson, 17, Cedar City, Utah.

Remember their names next time someone talks about teen-agers running wild on the roads—and remember the 4-H safety army, half a million strong.

Just Between You, Me . . .

. . . and the Gatepost

Sternenberg lumber yard sure looks good with all that beautiful glass front in it. A huge area of sparklingly clean glass sure helps the looks of a place. Bill and Raymond were washing the windows the other day. All that glass might not prove too popular to them if they are the ones who have to keep it clean all the time.

Notice where Buck Fausett is back with the Amarillo Gold Sox in baseball. Sure hope he has a lot of luck this year with the club. We worked with Buck during the 1948 and 1949 baseball seasons in doing promotional copy for the club. He's a wonderful fellow and we hope he has another season like that of 1948 when the Gold Sox won the West Texas-New Mexico pennant.

Saturday will mark the date of the 8th Annual Randall County Livestock Show. One of the awards of this show is a Registered Hereford from the George Nance herd. The Hereford is being given by Mrs. Nance in memory of the late George Nance. Each year there will be a Registered Hereford given to one of the boys of the show as a result of this deed by Mrs. Nance. May this contribution continue to grow bigger and better as the years go by. It is the result of a great man, a great cattle raiser and a wonderful woman.

It looks as though old man winter is going to continue to drop in for a visit right up until summer. Of course it isn't spring yet and it's better to get a cold wave every now and then to keep vegetation down until it is safe. Just before the cold wave hit Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Allen and their two daughters, Lynda and Janice, left for El Paso for a short visit. It may be a coincidence but that's the second time this year he and his family left for a short trip and a cold wave blew in.

Katie Nunley was released from the hospital last week to go home. She and husband Buck, who live near the gas booster plant southeast of town, got their personal telephone last week. It was probably one of the nicest presents Katie could have given as it made visits with her many friends possible via telephone. Formerly their telephoning was restricted to strictly business calls on the gas company phone.

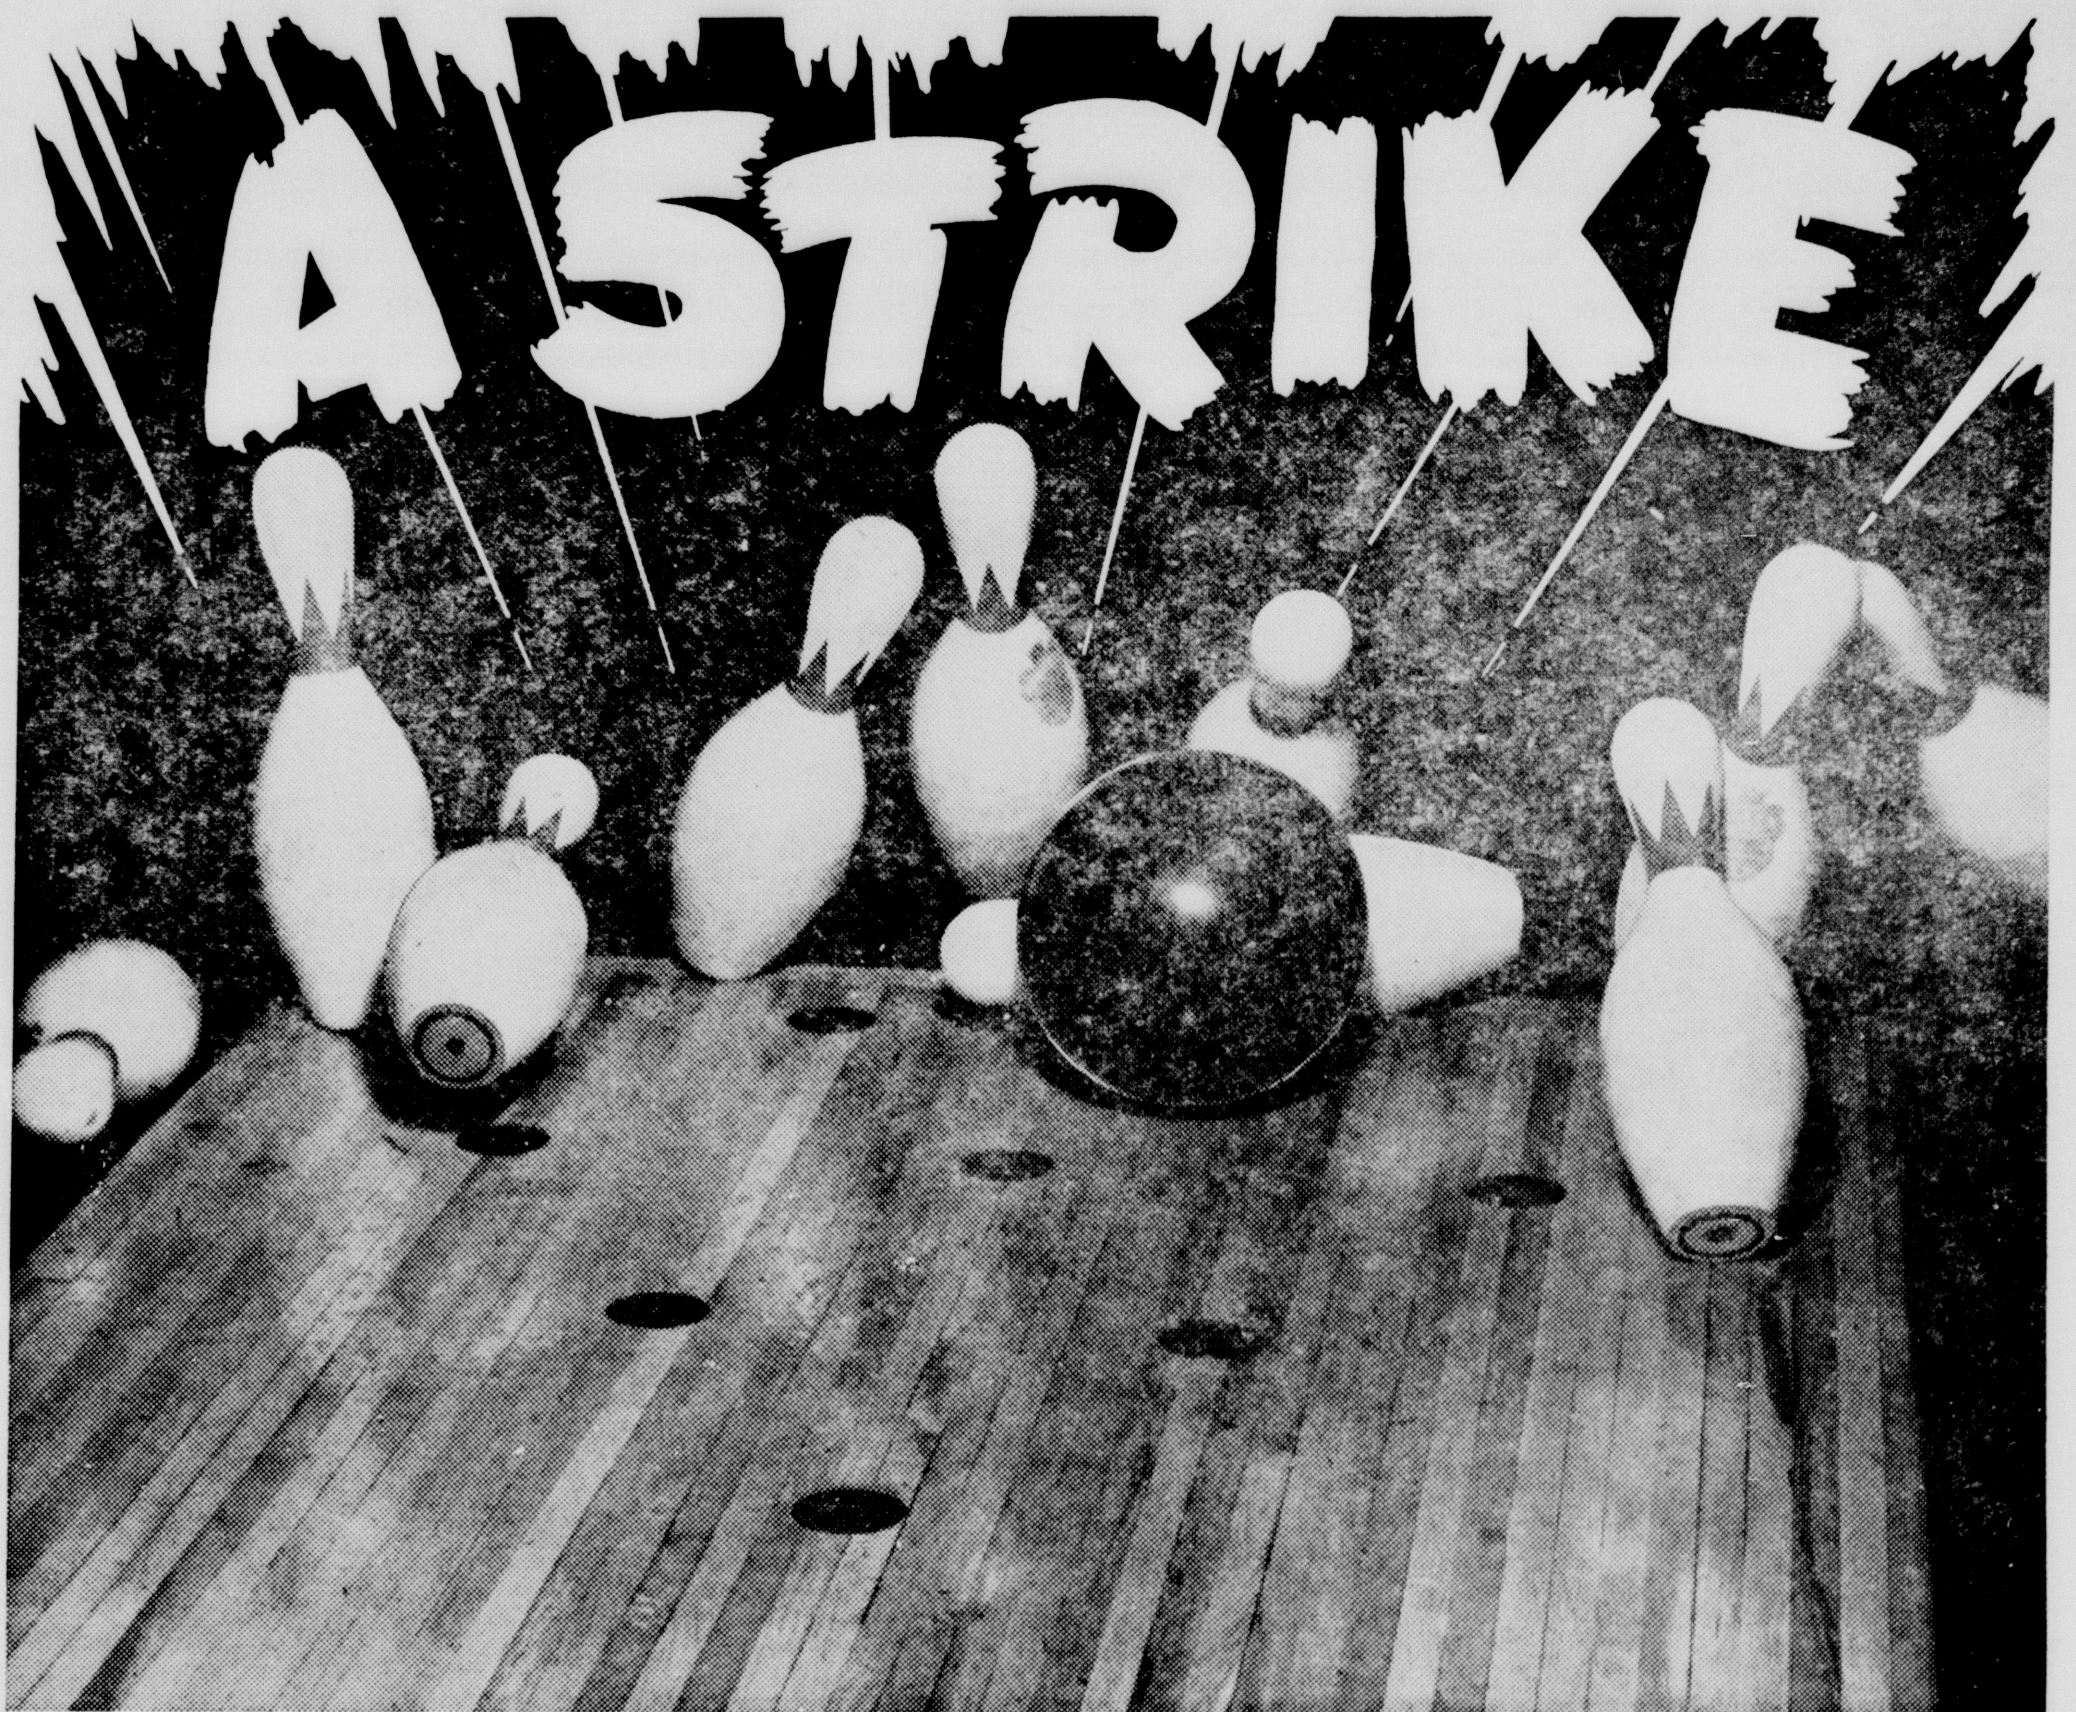

Chamber of Commerce Manager Roland Black has been fairly busy the past couple of weeks. He's trying to help transient workers find places to live. There will be a large number of these workers for the next few months. Besides the work that is now in progress there is the big project of the E-Way coming up soon and that will channel several more people into Canyon. More and more people are checking the "For Rent" ads in the newspaper to find a place to live.

It doesn't have to be spring time for people to have spring fever. There are already talks of fishing trips and in some places, picnics. Even the calendar doesn't show spring as beginning until late March so these people must have a touch of spring fever at least. We're taking a pre-spring jump by digging up some jokes about what a young man's fancy lightly turns to and the girl has been thinking about all winter.

The northern co-ed said, "Men are all alike." The southern co-ed smiled and said, "Men are all ah like too."

Two buddies were discussing their girls one day and one of them told the other, "Your girl sure has two beautiful legs." "How do you know that?" snapped buddy no. 1. "Because I counted them," said buddy no. 2.

The girl who believes there isn't a man good enough for her may be right but she'll more than likely be left.

Every good bowler knows the thrill of a 'ten strike.' To see all the pins go down is the goal of every player. That is success. That is the perfect game. He will play again, who has seen and enjoyed such a good hour.

How much more important is the game of life! Here is a fine girl or boy at school. He has done his studying to good advantage. The letter A ornaments his paper. An eager athlete has learned to play in team work. He has carried the ball across the line. That is a strike. His is a thrill that is intensified by the plaudits of his fellows. A woman entertains in her new home. Her table is immaculate and her friends made to feel at home. So all rejoice in the thrill of A Strike together.

All of life may be a thrilling game, if we play it well. High satisfaction comes, however, to those who approach the end of the years of living. To lay down the load, as one's friends give hearty cheers, because of work well done; this is the real Strike. To close one's eyes at the end of a day, with a consciousness of having done one's best . . . that is always a Strike. But to come to the very end of all days, with the praises of men and God in one's ears; that is the 'Ten Strike' indeed, which earns the heavenly "Well Done."
